Funds needed for retreat

In order to raise funds for a retreat, the Romulus Peer Counseling program participants will be holding a car wash between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., Sat., Aug. 1.

The car wash is scheduled to be staged at the Security Bank and Trust, parking lot, 9950 South Wayne Road.

"The money the kids raised from this project will help fund a retreat we have planned for later this year," said Karen Brown, director of the Family & Neighborhood Services. "We would appreciate any help and support from Romulus citizens and residents in the area."

Immunizations for kids set

Donway Family Health Center, 862 Will Carleton Rd., is offering free immunizations to any child who will be entering school for the first time. Persons interested should telephone 654-2169 during the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Friday for further information.

In addition to pre-school examinations and dental services, sports physicals, pediatrics, obstetrical and gynecological care, family planning and emergency care are also offered.

Golden Acorn

The 8th Infantry, better known as the Golden Acorn Division of World War I and World War II fame, will hold its 32nd annual reunion in Cincinnati, Ohio and members of this division are urged to call Gladwin Pascuzzo, 2374 N. Dundee, Highland, Michigan, for further information.

Pascuzzo also can be reached at 1-313-887-9005.

Most of the 87th are veterans of the famous "Battle of the Bulge."

Festival time

St. Joseph Church will be hold its 11th annual Chicken Broil and Festival on Aug. 23 on their church grounds, 9425 Whittaker Rd., in Ypsilanti.

"We would be most appreciative if our members and followers would be informed of the festival," said Maxine Gates. "This is a very special event on our church calendar."

Block grants OK'd for city

Romulus, Huron share $155,000

Huron Township will begin distributing $98,500 and Romulus $57,000 in Federal Community Block grants this week for fire equipment, street improvements, acquisition of land, and water and sewer projects, Wayne County Commissioner Edgar L. Harris announced today.

New Boston area of Huron Township will spend $30,000 for fire equipment and street improvements; Waltz will receive $15,500 earmarked for a fire hall and street lights; Middlebelt-Huron district, $20,000 for land acquisition and playgrounds; Willow area, $1,500 for streets; and Springhill, $31,500 for water sewers.

"Romulus plans to spend $20,000 for playgrounds, $27,000 on street improvements and $10,000 for rehabilitation of private property," Harris explained.

Wayne County's 1981 share in the Federal Community Development Block Grant program amounts to nearly $6 million, approved last week by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

This is the county's seventh year in the program, which organizes willing communities with less than $50,000 population and submits a collective grant request to HUD with detailed plans for distribution and expenditure of the funds in each community. Larger communities apply directly to HUD.

With 31 communities participating, the funds will support a variety of physical development projects such as street and sidewalk improvements, development of water and sewer facilities, fire protection services, senior citizens centers, and housing rehabilitation.

Other acceptable projects can include land acquisition for community use public housing expansion, recreation programs and elimination of blighted buildings. Mainly, the projects must principally benefit low-and-moderate income persons, aid in the elimination of slums or blight, or meet some other urgent community need.

The exact amount of the grant this year, $5,932,176, brings to a total $28.1 million administered by the program since its inception in the County. All the proceeds are for projects determined after public hearings at local levels, although HUD is the final approving authority.

Sewer study planned

A portion of the sanitary sewer system within the City of Romulus will come under the scrutiny of the planning firm of Wade, Trim & Associates Inc. as part of a federal study grant.

The firm will be studying the existing sanitary sewer system for that portion of the community serviced by the Downriver System and the Wyandotte treatment plant. The approximate area of the study is south of Northline Road, all of the system south of Eureka Road and the entire community west of Wayne Road. Excluded will be Detroit Metropolitan Airport and the neighboring area.

The study is being financed through a $118,000 Environmental Protection Agency grant, accepted by the Wayne County Board of Public Works on behalf of the City of Romulus.

Wade, Trim will be charged with preparing a Step I, Facility Planning Study for the community, according to planner Mary Ellen Smith. Ms. Smith said the firm will be studying the sanitary sewer system for the existing and future needs of the community and at the end of the year-long study will provide a report on what can be done by the city to meet its future wastewater needs.

Public participation in the facility planning process is a required component of the study, according to Ms. Smith, who added that public meetings and a hearing will be conducted during the planning process.

Voters to face Sept. 14 primary

15 candidates file for City Council

While there will be showdown in November between incumbent Mayor William Oakley and challenger Leonard Folmar for Romulus' top elected job, city voters will be faced with a primary next month to narrow the field of candidates running for the City Council and City Clerk's positions.

With Mayor Oakley and Folmar, who presently holds the city clerk's job, the only announced candidates for the Mayor's office, no primary is needed in that race. Instead, the two will by-pass the primary, scheduled for Monday, Sept. 14, and clash in the general election slated for November.

However, 15 candidates have stepped forward for seven council seats and one will be eliminated in the primary to narrow the field for the general election.

Although all seven council seats are up for grabs, two incumbents - Ray Cantrell and Gerry Canejo - have not filed for re-election. Neither Cantrell or Canejo could be reached for comments.

Council incumbents who will seek re-election are: Mary Ann Banks, who presently holds the title of Mayor Pro Tem; Councilmen Edward A. Rush, Fred Junior Block, Jimmie C. Raspberry, and Richard K. Yeramian.

The challengers include: John Lewko-wicz, Noah P. Bergerson, Theodore W. Jockue, Barry Baumann, Ray Elwart, Brooker Edwards, Jack Trumble, Lngg Coleman, Alan Lambert and Terry Trout.

One of three hopefuls in the city clerk's race will also be eliminated during the primary. Seeking the job are Linda R. Choate, Raymond Cantrell, and Robert B. Plank.

Treasurer Beverly McAnnally is unopposed.

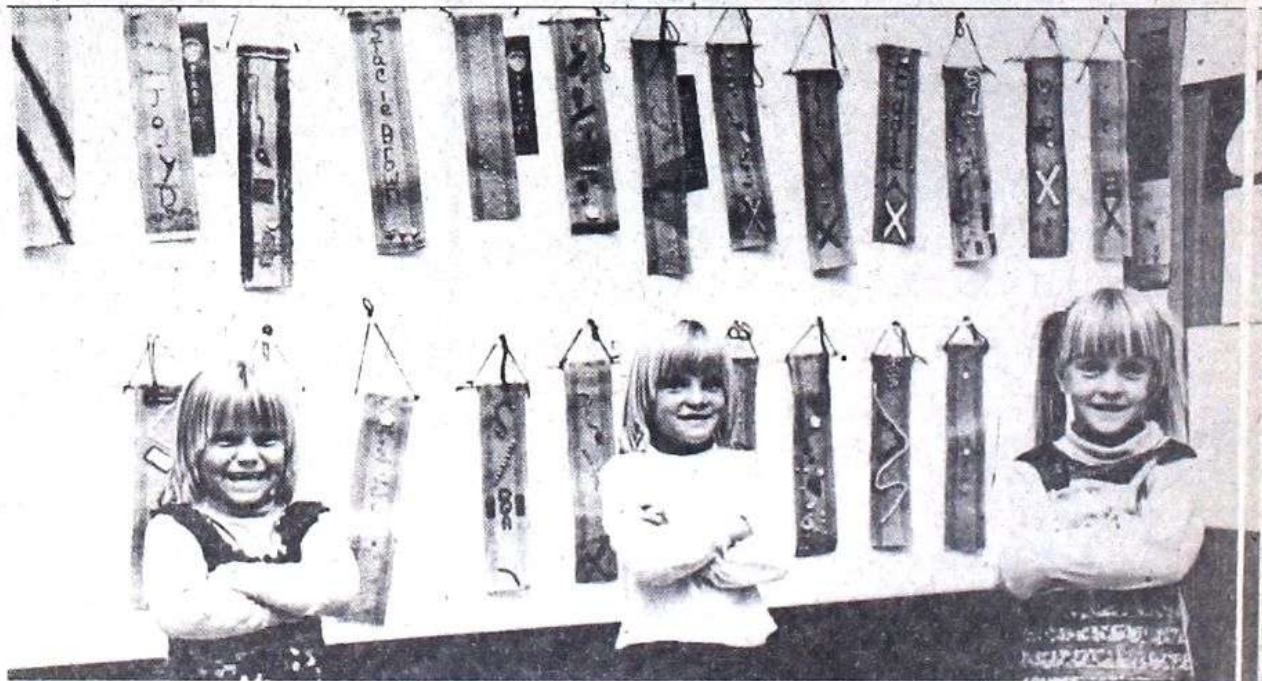

The deadline to file for office was Monday, July 27.

"Although there may be some write-in candidates as time progresses," Folmar said "at present these are the people who have filed their petitions.

"Also, a candidate has until 4 p.m., Thursday, to withdraw if he chooses.

However, a statement of withdrawal must be submitted to the City Clerk's office in writing," Folmar concluded.

Although Michelle Peters, 7 (from left), Lisa Peters, 7, and Kathy Akers, 5, appear to be standing before a long string of ribbons they won, it isn't necessarily so. These

'winners' just took part in Hayti School's Recreation Art Fair where they, as well as a score of other youngsters, had a lot of fun making and painting "things"

RAP LINE

Runaway teens can get help

For a wide variety of reasons, there are millions of runaways and potential runaways in the United States.

The runaways, usually in their early teens, cite "communication problem with parents," "wanting to live," "boy or girlfriend" problems among the reasons why they left home.

And, these runaways usually wind up in trouble, if not dead.

"I would like the people in your area to know about a new program that is unique to the state of Michigan," said Barbara Wronski, Program Director of "Rap Line". "These kids can now I helped thanks to funds provided by the Department of Social Services."

Ms. Wronski said the new program called "Runaway Assistance Program or RAP LINE, is a statewide, toll free crisis line for runaways, potential runaways, "throwaways" and their families.

The program funded through the Department of Social Services, also receive financial assistance from Office Criminal Justice and the Juvenile Justice Delinquency and Prevention Act.

RAP LINE crisis counselors are available 24 hours a day, 7-days a week and can be reached simply by telephoning 1-800-292-4517.

"There are over a million runaways annually in the United States," Ms. Wronski reiterated. "Although there are national hotlines—the Runaway hotline in Houston, and the Chicago Switchboard, presently exist, Michigan is the first state to fund a statewide crisis line for runaways."

"By limiting the geographic range of Michigan," the program director con-

Lucas gets a 'stay of execution'

Commissioners decide to wait for court decision

SHERIFF LUCAS

Having postponed a hearing on Sheriff William Lucas that might have led to a vote for removing him from office, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners is awaiting the outcome of pending court suits before deciding further action on Lucas.

Unhappy with his unauthorized expenditures, and acting under subpoena powers of the Chairman of the Board, the commissioners summoned Lucas before them on July 21 to explain his failure to post a $500,000 personal performance bond they ordered in March.

Their expressed intent was to accept Lucas' testimony, and if unsatisfied with his explanation, possibly vote to oust him from office with agreement from two-thirds (18) of the 27 members of the Board. After a report from the County Corporation Counsel on status of the lawsuits, however, the Board decided to put aside the matter until its next regularly scheduled meeting after the court decision.

In the latest of several court battles since February when the Sheriff was ordered to disband his controversial Patrol and Investigation Division, Lucas has sued the Board to prevent the shutdown and also filed to prohibit the Board from demanding the bond. Additionally, the Court of Appeals is considering an emergency request from the County prohibiting Lucas from ordering more overtime, a cost boosting unauthorized expenditures to $100,000 per week.

As expected by Corporation Counsel George Cross, he said at the hearing, verbal testimony in the Sheriff's suit to maintain the road patrol was concluded last week. Visiting Judge Harvey Moes from Hillsdale County has given both sides until Aug. 5 to submit written final arguments.

Belleville girl is among top students

Belleville's Beth Van Vaikenburgh is among the 41 boys and girls of high school class levels who graduated from the 13th annual American Legion-State Police student trooper school in the state Police academy in southwest Lansing.

A luncheon and graduation program for the 29 boys and 12 girls climaxed a two-week orientation in law enforcement activities and responsibilities. It was the seventh year of eligibility girls in the school.

Awards included several to class members, including a scholarship shared by Miss Van Vaikenburgh and Theodore Card of Battle Creek.

Principal speakers for the program were Glenn Ainslee of Hastings, commander of the Michigan Department of the Legion, Lt. Col. Cornelius Bykerk, director of the State Services Bureau of the State Police, and Milt Lobstein, Detroit, Legion counselor.

The school was conducted by officers of the operations division, whose commander is Capt. Gene Rooker, by training division officers, all of the State Police, in cooperation with Legion personnel and guest instructors.

'World Understanding'

Rotary official to visit in city

"World Understanding and Peace Through Rotary" will be the subject of an address to the Rotary Club of Romulus on Wednesday, August 19, by Albert J. Lapshan, governor of this Rotary district.

Lapshan, of Allen Park, will also confer with Gilbert White, Jr., president of the local Rotary club, and club officers on the group's service plans and activities this year.

Lapshan is one of 391 Rotary governors throughout the world who are representatives of Rotary International in districts composed of member clubs. Each district governor supervises the clubs in his area.

Lapshan is a retired law enforcement officer, having served on the Detroit police force and then Allen Park, where he retired as deputy chief of police in 1980.

He was elected to office at the Rotary International convention in Sao Paulo, Brazil in June 1981 and will serve until June 30, 1982.

Rotary, with more than 19,000 clubs in some 150 lands throughout the free world, is an organization of business and professional men who provide humanitarian service, encourage high ethical standards in all vocations, and help build good will and peace in the world.

In Van Buren School District

Teachers set strike vote date

Unhappy about a recent decision by the Van Buren Board of Education to implement its latest contract offer, members of the Van Buren Education Association will take a strike vote on Thurs., Sept. 3, according to Robert Harkai, VBEA director.

"On July 27, the Wayne County bargaining committee voted unanimously to authorize Van Buren (teachers) to take a strike vote on Sept. 3, and by a second unanimous vote, the proposed strike calendar was also approved," Harkai said.

Harkai explained "that what this means is that the bargaining committee which is composed of the chief negotiator and 13 district members of the Michigan Education Association — the powerful committee that is charged with the teacher-board negotiations — has approved the strike."

The next step for the teachers will be to get approval from the MEA Board of Governors, which is scheduled to meet August 25, according to Harkai.

On September 3, there will be a general meeting of the 300 members affiliated with the VBEA and if "67 percent of those voting approve a strike, a strike will be called."

Harkai stressed "if a strike vote passes on Sept. 3, we would take a one-day warning strike on Monday, Sept. 14, and if sufficient progress toward contract settlement is not reached, there would be a full-scale strike scheduled for Monday, Sept. 28."

Harkai added that he felt neither the teachers or the board of education wanted a strike.

"However, this is a last resort thing," he said. "It is something that teachers definitely don't want to do, but after two years we feel the board has left us with few alternatives. This is only one we have come up with."

"We want to see education continue and we want to see it back where it was two years ago," Harkai said, "but the board just seems to be fighting us at every turn. And, until we get a contract, education is not going to be good in Van Buren."

The Board of Education last week unanimously voted to implement a 5 percent pay increase for the 300 teachers in the school district, despite the fact that neither the board of the teachers' bargaining team had reached an agreement. The teachers are seeking a 13% across the board wage hike.

In a formal statement at the time, Dr. Elvin Peets, Superintendent of School in Van Buren, explained the Board's action as follows:

"After nearly 40 bargaining sessions since June of 1979, including several with a state mediator, it was held by the board of education that an impasse had been reached."

"This step is being taken mainly as the result of the concern of members of the board of education that the district's teachers bearing the impact of inflation, have worked two years without a salary increase," the statement read.

Van Buren teachers have been working without a contract since the old pact expired in August of 1979.

The board has attempted to raise new monies, but two tries at additional operating millage failed to gain voter support this year. Dr. Peets recently said the school district would not place a millage question on the ballot again.

Instead, 61 teachers were laid off, competitive sports and the position of athletic director were cut as well as art, music, and physical education in the elementary schools were eliminated in order to help balance the budget.

continued, "it is hoped that we can be more aware of the resources available to our callers."

In addition to crisis counseling, RAP line can also provide referral to any of 20 runaway shelters throughout the state, provide legal information pertaining to minors and their parents, and act as a message relay between parents and youth.

"RAP LINE" uses an appropriate slogan: "No Place to Call Home, Cal us". If you are a runaway, help may be just a telephone call away.

- Promote the Council's mission by stimulation recreation programs toward Youth Fitness.

- Encourage Public and Private Agencies to launch special Youth Fitness Programs on a Year Basis.

- Assist all groups and individuals interested in Physical Fitness, by referral or consultant service whenever and wherever possible.

- Encourage participation in sports by promotion of competitive games for boys and girls through every means possible.

- Inculcate a belief in total fitness, including physical, mental, spiritual, emotional and social fitness.

The Considine Award was conceived in 1963 as a tribute to the late John Considine, who was the originator of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Cities Youth Fitness Program.

The memorial trophy reads, "Detroit Metropolitan Cities Youth Fitness Program — John J. Considine dedicated to 'physical fitness of the American Youth'".

The award is presented to the one city selected of the fifty-eight cities involved for sportsmanship, conduct and appearance during the track and field event. This is a rotating trophy and the city honored with the award retains it until the following year.

Cities which have won the Considine Trophy in the past include: 1980 - Roseville; 1979 - Inkster; 1978 - City of Lapeer; 1977 - Inkster; 1976 - Roseville; 1975 - Shelby Township-Utica; 1974 - Detroit/N.; 1973 - Southfield; 1972 - Shelby Township; 1971 - Sterling Heights; 1970 - Southfield; 1969 - Sterling Heights; 1968 - Dearborn; 1967 - St. Clair Shores; 1966 - Birmingham; 1965-64-63 - St. Clair Shores.

The Detroit Youth Fitness Committee annually present Special Award plaques to persons who have made outstanding contributions to the Detroit Metro Youth Fitness Program. These will be announced at the Dignitary Luncheon on Thursday, July 30.

Graduation day

Eight registered nurses, who have been away from their profession for as long as 30 years, are in the swing of it again, after completing a nurse refresher course, sponsored by the Peoples Community Hospital Authority. The course allowed the women to update their skills in order to return to hospital nursing, and a "graduation" ceremony followed the 10-week course. The

Conspiracy drug case

Suspects 'tell all' to authorities for lesser sentences

Three of 10 men indicted in May on charges of federal conspiracy to distribute cocaine and the theft of shipments of liquor have agreed to work with federal authorities in exchange for guilty pleas and lesser sentences.

The agreements were made by Anthony Berna of Westland, Vincent Frigerio of Plymouth Township and Ted Lee of Dearborn Heights on April 14 and remained sealed until June 18. The three men were among identified by a federal grand jury in a sealed indictment May 21.

Berna and Frigerio, along with 18th District Court Officer Dan Bagbey, Westland Fire Fighter Robert Cox, both of Westland, Glenn Gatt of Westland, Aslan Halim of Plymouth, Adalgiso Mancini, a Colombian national, and Gerald Stodart of Inkster, were named in the 18-count indictment, opened on May 29. The men were charged with conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute and to distribute various quantities of cocaine and with the distribution of cocaine.

Berna on July 4 entered pleas of not guilty to five counts of the indictment. However, the plea was withdrawn on June 18 to the first count — conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute and to distribute cocaine. Sentencing is pending for Berna, who would receive not more than 26 months in prison and fine not to exceed $25,000.

Frigerio also pled not guilty to the first count of the indictment on June 5. His agreement with federal authorities, stems from an earlier indictment on two counts of conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute and to distribute cocaine and marijuana.

He pled guilty to one count of conspiracy to possess and distribute cocaine, while the marijuana charge was dropped. He faces a sentence of not more than 3½ years and a fine of $24,000.

Lee, along with Bagbey, Berna, Larry Buie and Frigerio were named in a three-count indictment of conspiracy, theft from an interstate shipment and possession of stolen property from an interstate shipment.

Lee pled guilty to the possession of stolen property on June 24 and will receive a sentence of no more than two years, a fine of up to $5,000, or both.

Bagbey, following the May 29 indictment, was relieved of his duties at the 18th District Court in Westland. Pleas of not guilty were entered on June 4 to the counts of conspiracy to possess with the intent to distribute and to distribute cocaine and possession with the intent to distribute.

Cox was suspended without pay. He appealed that decision before the city's Civil Service Commission, which reversed the ruling, stating that he should be suspended with pay.

He also pled not guilty on June 4 to the conspiracy charge, as well as to three charges of distribution of cocaine, two charges of possession with the intent to distribute, and the unlawful carrying of a firearm during the commission of a felony.

The charges stemmed from 13-month investigation by the Federal Drug Enforcement Administration, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Wayne County Sheriff's Metropolitan Narcotics Squad and FBI. It was carried on from December 1978 through June 1980. Motions by the defendants on the charges will have to be filed in federal court by Aug. 1, giving the U.S. Attorney's Office one month in which to reply. Court dates have yet to be set, and estimates are that the cases may not come before U.S. District Judge Avern Cohn until sometime in September.

Sheriff Lucas gets 'stay of execution'

Appeals Court last week on the emergency overtime issue, but Cross said the County has until Aug. 6 for response to the Sheriff's claims in the bond suit. Both he and Commissioner Thomas Presnell, who made the motion to postpone the Sheriff's testimony, agreed that the decision was the most expedient.

Said Presnell after the meeting: "There is such extensive and lengthy litigation involved in this, it makes better sense to wait until the court rules. We want to make sure that we're within all laws, and the law is determined by the court. Neither would we want to prejudice the Sheriff's suit."

Cross said the commissioners' decision to postpone was "a legitimate move. If the court is in process of deciding, it is appropriate to let the court go ahead and do it."

Board Chairman Samuel A. Turner said he also thought it was wise to postpone the matter at least until suits filed in the past two weeks were resolved. However, he discounted notions that the postponement or past or future court decisions represent a victory for either side.

Area borders Van Buren, Romulus

Landfill expansion is up in air

Canton Supervisor James Poole, like many other local people, have a lot of questions about the expansion and conditions at Woodland Meadows Sanitary Landfill.

The landfill, which borders Wayne, Romulus and Van Buren Township, is located on Hannan Road just south of Michigan Avenue.

The developer proposes to construct a landfill on a 105-acre parcel of land directly south of the present landfill site that would approximately double its size.

Wayne Mayor Patrick Norton met recently with Poole to express his concern and that of his city over the proposed expansion. Elected officials from Romulus and Van Buren Township also want more information about what's happening.

"We want full and complete information from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the Wayne County Health Department about conditions at the landfill," Poole said yesterday.

"We want to know how the dumping of hazardous waste and other material is affecting us and the land around us. Is it hurting us or not?"

There is a public hearing scheduled for 8 p.m. on Monday, July 27 at Canton

Administration Building, 1150 S. Canton Center Road, between Cherry Hill and Michigan Avenue, for all interested area residents to voice their opinions. DNR and county health officials will be present to answer questions.

Poole said that Mayor Norton of Wayne said his city is interested in combining with other local communities to spend $10,000 to run studies on the landfill and existing conditions.

Poole said that nobody wants a landfill located in their community. "But let's face it, the clay base over there (at Woodland Meadows) is one of the best in the United States. If there is no place to dump, we'll have to close all our factories.

"I've been informed by a university environmental specialist that we won't be affected by the dumping for at least 100 years, if then," Poole said.

"But I'm not going to just take somebody's word for it. I want to know when, where and how the dumping is going on and how it affects us all. I want to know if it's hurting our wells and affecting our water."

"I want to run tests that will check what DNR and the Wayne County Health Department have stated. I'm concerned about my children and grandchildren and want to make sure we know what's happening and not take anything for granted," Poole said.

Ecklesdsfer is promoted

Lance Ecklesdsfer has been promoted to accounts receivable supervisor for Welcor, Inc.

The Inkster resident will handle all billings, receivables transactions and supervise problem areas. Formerly from the Flint area, he recently moved to work for Welcor's corporate offices in Livonia.

Welcor has been marketing copy machines and supplies since 1952, and has offices throughout Michigan.

Milliken OKs proposed charter

Members of the Wayne County Charter Commission met this week to approve placing the proposed charter before county voters on the Nov. 3 general election ballot.

The vote by the commission followed approval of the document last week by Gov. William Milliken and opens the door to a reorganization of Wayne County's "archaic form of government," according to Commission President George E. Ward.

The proposed charter took six months to draft and, if adopted, would trim the current 27-member commission to 15 members and districts, apportioned throughout Wayne County on the basis of population. The election of those 15 commissioners would take place during the 1982 primary and general elections.

Actually, when voters go to the polls in November they will be voting on two charters, both are the mirror image of the other in all aspects but one. One charter calls for an appointed county executive, while the other would provide for an elected county executive.

Voters will pass on both proposals. If both charters are approved in the balloting, the one receiving the highest number of yes votes would be adopted.

With the vote of the charter commission, five cities and the county's townships will have to call for special elections on Nov. 3. All other municipalities in the county have general elections scheduled for that date.

The Charter Commission also is preparing for the "selling" of the proposed charter. William O'Brien, executive director of the Charter Commission, said a series of informal forums will be held throughout August and September in order to appraise voters of the highlights of the proposed charter and to compare it with the present form of county government.

O'Brien also is planning an extensive voter information campaign, which will include a speaker's bureau and the distribution of charter-related information on a county-wide basis.

Copies of the charter are available through the commission's offices in the Veterans Memorial Building (Suite 275).

Ward has expressed confidence that county voters will approve one, if not both, of the charters in November, saying: "Wayne County citizens have been waiting much too long for this significant opportunity to bring county government into the 20th century."

Wayne picks new city manager

Saying that "his heart was in this city," Tom Daily became the city manager of Wayne Tuesday night as City Council ended a three-month search.

Council voted to give Daily, 46, and the assistant city manager, the head job after considerable debate. He was awarded the position "by acclamation."

"My heart and my soul are in this town," Daily said in his brief but touching acceptance speech before Council and a standing room audience.

Daily, 46, has served as Assistant City Manager since 1975.

The Council had narrowed the field to six candidates and after interviewing them chose Daily and Robert Bartalotta of Ames, Iowa as the two most qualified.

Daily was nominated by Councilman Manny Lentine. His nomination was seconded by Milt Mack. On the first roll call Lentine, Mack, Mayor Pat Norton and Tom Weyand voted for Daily.

Chuck West, who had previously nominated Bartalotta suggested, however, that Daily be appointed by acclamation.

Councilmen Mike Brown summed up the discussion by saying: "I feel both candidates have outstanding qualifications and voted for Bartalotta because I felt he has more national exposure and experience with the League of Cities, but I do believe in promoting from within and we know Tom Daily."

Council set the salary of the City Manager at $38,090.

Brown said "This is the most important job in the city and I feel the City Manager should be the highest paid person."

Views On Dental Health

By SHERMAN H. KANE, D.D.S.

DENTURES — HANDLE WITH CARE

When is the most dangerous time in the life of dentures (sometimes called false teeth — but not by dentists)? The most dangerous period is when your dentures are out of your mouth!

Dentures should be handled carefully when they're out of your mouth. Dropping them even a few inches into a wash-bowl can break them. Hold your dentures over a towel or a basin half-filled with water. Then, should they slip from your hand, there will be a cushion to help prevent damage.

When dentures are out of your mouth for any length of time, they should be placed in water or a cleansing solution. If they become dry, they can warp. Dentures should NEVER be placed in hot water. Hot water can warp the plastic.

If your denture does break, do not try to put it together yourself. Solvents found in some glues can damage denture plastics and irritate your mouth. It is almost impossible to precisely align broken parts. If you try, the denture will fit poorly and be useless or, even worse, harmful. Go directly to your dentist for repair.

Garden tips

The shade and the gardener

"Nothing will bloom in the shade!" — this is a common complaint, but one that is far from true.

Certainly no gardener walking along a woodland trail would be inclined to believe it; but too many people make wrong assumptions about shade.

People who purchased houses 20 years ago and who prudently set out head-high saplings, now find themselves with sizeable shade trees. One nursery man observes that his best-selling plant used to be the sun-loving petunia. Now, he says, everyone wants impatiens, a plant that thrives in shade. Not only is shade prevalent, it is for many gardeners desirable.

Exactly what is shade? There are many kinds and degrees, and everyone with a shaded garden should be able to distinguish among them. Many plants, for example, are described as growing well under trees — but different trees, even deciduous (leaf shedding) ones, cast different kinds of shadows. There is the relatively deep shade of beeches and norway maples and the lighter shade of trees with lesser foliage, such as honey locusts, willow, oaks and sweet gum.

Problems of gardening beneath trees often come not from the shade itself but from root systems of the old american favorites such as the maple, beech and elm.

In this case it may be advisable to plant ground covers that need less moisture and nutrients. Or you can give up the idea of growing anything and cover it with gravel, lava rock, or colorful bark. To keep it looking neat, install an edging of brick, flagstones or garden timbers.

Shaded areas are often advantageous. Weeds are rarely a problem here. In fact, spic-n-span maintenance is not necessary. Extensive and tiring soil preparation also isn't too great a concern.

OLIVER BIGELOW

If the shade is in a woodland setting, add rhododendrons and other shrubs. Try to group them informally as they might exist in nature rather than scattering them recklessly. Don't over plant them. Leave space for trilliums, ferns, trailing arbutus, and other shade tolerant plants.

Daffodils and most of the other spring-flowering bulbs do not prefer shade, but they do perform well when some sun reaches them in early spring and up to the time their foliage has nearly ripened — the situation that exists in most woodland gardens. Along with daffodils there are the grape hyacinth, puschkinias, siilas and winter aconites. An eye-catching combination is a grouping or more of the crown imperialis (fretellaria) behind a drift of daffodils.

You don't have to stop there. The fall blooming bulbs also do fairly well. Included in this category are the fall blooming crocus, various colchicums, which look like giant crocus.

Other plants which do not require strong light and are ideal subjects for a shady garden are the ferns, perennials such as day lilies, hostas, pulmonarias, primroses, and bleeding heart (dicentra spectabilis).

Armed Forces

Seaman Scott serving on missile frigate

Navy Operations Specialist Seaman Apprentice Darrell P. Scott, son of Marvin D. and Beatrice I. Scott of 5945 Dexter, Romulus, is serving as a crewmember aboard the Navy's newest guided missile frigate, the USS Sides.

The Sides was commissioned May 30 at the Naval Station, Long Beach, Calif., its homeport.

The 445-foot frigate is named after retired Admiral John H. Sides. With a crew of 187, the ship is designed for defense against submarines, surface ships and aircraft. Its weapons include surface-to-surface and surface-to-air missiles, anti-submarine torpedoes, guns and two helicopters.

Pvt. Artist E. Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Peters of 22911 Carlton Road, Belleville, has arrived for duty at Schweinfurt, West Germany.

Peters, a scout observer with the 1st Battalion, was previously assigned at Fort Knox, Ky.

He is a 1980 graduate of Huron High School, New Boston.

Jon E. Jensen, 18, 7153 Belleville Rd., Belleville, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to Technical Sergeant Roy Smith, the Air Force recruiter here, Jensen will commence four years active duty on Dec. 8, undergoing six weeks basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The Air Force has guaranteed that Jensen, a 1981 graduate of Belleville High School, will then receive Security Specialist training, and upon completion be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Airman James C. Miller, son of Sylvia M. Miller of 284 Kleinow, River Rouge, and James R. Miller of 45065 Judd Road, Belleville, has been assigned to Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the munitions and weapons maintenance field.

Miller is a 1980 graduate of River Rouge High School.

Coast Guard Seaman Apprentice Kevin C. Green, son of Thomas G. Green of 207 Sharkey St., Belleville, has completed recruit training at the Coast Guard Training Center, Cape May, N.J.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training leading toward their qualification in one of the Coast Guard's 26 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were first aid, seamanship, Coast Guard history and regulations, close order drill and damage control.

Marine Pvt. James S. Crook Jr., son of Mollie R. and James S. Crook Sr. of Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Air Force is seeking pilots

Air Force recruiters are seeking the largest number of applicants for pilot and navigator training since the beginning of the All-Volunteer Force in 1973. Recruiting Service officials announced here recently.

More than 1500 pilot and 800 navigator candidates will be selected for officer training in FY 1982. College students within nine months of graduating or recent graduates are encouraged to apply.

Pilot applicants without private pilot's licenses attend a 3-week Flight Screening Program designed to acquaint them with fundamentals of flying.

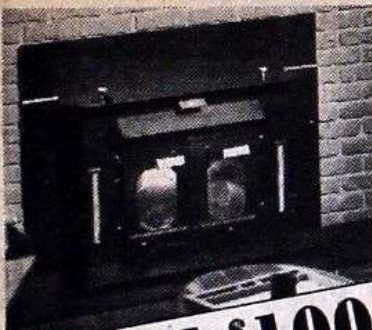

Selected applicants attend a 12-week Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, near San Antonio.

After graduation from OTS, pilot selectees are assigned to one of seven undergraduate pilot training locations in Alabama, Arizona, Texas, Mississippi, or Oklahoma for an extensive flight training program up to 35 weeks in length. Navigator selectees attend 29 weeks of school at Mather AFB, near Sacramento, Calif.

For further information about pilot and navigator programs, contact your local Air Force recruiter or call toll-free 1-800-523-5000. In Pennsylvania, call 1-800-492-2029.

DR. DAN ELWART

Dear Dr. Elwart,
How old must a person be before they can start to receive chiropractic care?
A: Right at birth is not too soon to start. I believe "an ounce of prevention is certainly worth a pound of cure." The first trauma received to the spine is right at birth when the babies' neck is severely twisted to aid in the birth itself. This can lead to later problems as the child matures and grows. We are always happy to check children of any age for they respond readily to chiropractic care.

Dr. Shaft,
What type of education do chiropractors receive?
A: We first need at least 2 years preprofessional college majoring in Geology and Chemistry, then it's on to Chiropractic college for a 4 year professional curriculum in anatomy, physiology, chemistry, biology, chiropractic technique and philosophy, clinical internship experience. There are national and state board examinations to pass before receiving a license to practice Chiropractic. There is a great demand for chiropractors now and is one of the great hidden career choices of the future. We'll be glad to send you more information if you'll write or phone us.

Kelsey Hayes appoints Greeneisen vice-president

ROMULUS — Kelsey-Hayes Company, a subsidiary of Fruehauf Corporation, has named David P. Greeneisen to the position of Vice President of Product Assurance, announced Kelsey-Hayes President James S. Wilkerson.

In his new post, Greeneisen will be responsible for the reliability, quality, and safety of all Kelsey-Hayes products — which include automotive wheels and brakes, and components for the aerospace industry.

Greeneisen joined Kelsey-Hayes in 1973. He served at the firm's Ann Arbor (MI) Research and Development Center before being named Vice President of Quality Assurance for the Auto/Truck Group.

Greeneisen holds a B.S. from the United States Naval Academy, and has done graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Polytechnic Institute of New York, and St. John's University. He also holds Master's degrees in Electrical Engineering, Naval Architecture, and Business Administration, and Engineer's Degree in Marine Engineering, and a Ph.D. in Operations Research (a.b.d.).

He is currently completing a Ph.D. in Industrial Engineering at the University of Michigan.

As a subsidiary of Fruehauf Corporation, Kelsey-Hayes Company is a major manufacturer and supplier of wheels, brakes, and other automotive components. Kelsey-Hayes also manufactures component parts for use in industrial equipment, aerospace, and agricultural and recreational vehicle industries. Greeneisen is a resident of Ann Arbor.

Bill is in Congress' hands

Realtors push for tax-exempt savings to drop mortgage rates

Realtors are urging passage of a bill now before Congress to permit various types of savings institutions to issue one-year tax-exempt savings certificates with the funds tied to home mortgages.

"While far from a total solution to current housing problems, this version of the bill would go a long way toward making homes more affordable," said Robert D. Shimmin, president of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR).

"The record level of mortgage interest rates now is effectively barring about 90 percent of first-time home seekers. With the low rate of savings, many thrifts and small banks which furnish mortgage money are having trouble. Part of the problem stems from the rate these institutions must pay to compete for deposits, which in turn forces a higher mortgage interest rate."

Certificates issued under provisions of the proposed bill would reduce the cost of funds of these depository institutions. The tax-exempt interest rate they would pay would be limited to 70 percent of the rate for Treasury bills, now about 14 percent. This would drop tax-free interest paid on the certificates to 9.8 percent or less.

"With thrifts needing from one to two percent for operations, we could expect home mortgages from this influx of funds at about 12 percent," Shimmin said. "Such a drop from even a 15 percent rate, would lower monthly principal and interest payments on a $60,000 home, with a 20 percent down, 30-year mortgage, from some $607 to less than $494."

He said the tax-exempt status of interest earned on the certificate, up to $1,000 for individuals and $2,000 for couples, would make them attractive to savers and competitive with higher yields from other instruments on which taxes must be paid.

The National Association of Realtors estimates that tying the funds to home mortgages would permit five million people to afford their first home or upgrade their current housing.

Shimmin said that this could mean as many as 25,000 home sales within the WWOCBR territory which includes major portions of Northwest Detroit, Wayne, Oakland and Livingston Counties.

"We know there is very strong housing demand building in our area," he said. "Thousands of good homes are listed for sale, but the great share of prospective buyers can't beat the affordability problem. Enactment of this bill would certainly create a great deal of new opportunity for both buyers and sellers."

He noted that passage of the measure would cause an initial reduction in government receipts of $4 billion or more. But, he added that resulting growth of the economy, including creation of more than 400,000 jobs, would more than compensate for the depleted revenues.

New law restricts resale of precious metals

A new state law will make it much harder for thieves to get rid of their stolen precious metals and gems.

In recent years, the sharp increase in gold and silver prices has brought with it a dramatic rise in home burglaries, as thieves seek out precious metals and gems which can be easily converted into cash.

Disreputable dealers, free to buy such items with no questions asked, can quickly melt down precious metals to prevent any possible identification as stolen property.

The new law will make it harder for thieves to "fence" precious items and easier for police to trace the stolen goods. Hopefully, this will curb burglaries of precious metals and gems.

It requires dealers who purchase such items to register with the local police department, pay an administrative fee, and supply police with their business name and address, thumbprints, names and addresses of themselves and their employees. Police will then register these dealers.

Dealers could not pay cash for precious items, but instead would have to pay by check, money order or bank draft. A dealer could not buy a precious item from anyone under 18 years old, or from anyone known to have been convicted of theft or receipt of stolen property within the previous five years.

The seller would have to show a valid driver's license or State of Michigan identification card.

The law requires that there be a permanent record made in triplicate of each transaction. One copy would be kept by the dealer, one given to the seller and one would be sent to the local police agency within 48 hours of the transaction.

Each precious item received by a dealer would have to be held at least seven days without any alterations other than those necessary for an appraisal.

A dealer would be guilty of a felony if he:

- Failed totally to record a transaction.
- Knowingly received a precious item from someone less than 18 years of age or someone convicted of theft or receipt of stolen property within the previous five years;

- Purchased a precious item with out requiring identification from the seller.

A felony penalty also would apply to any dealer who failed to obtain a certificate of registration or failed to hold a precious item unaltered for seven days.

The law further permits anyone who had a precious item stolen to bring suit against a dealer who received the item in violation of the law for three times the amount of damages, costs and reasonable attorney fees.

Precious metals covered under the law include gold, silver or platinum. Gems include a diamond, alexandrite, ruby, sapphire, opal, amethyst, emerald, aquamarine, morganite, garnet, jadeite, topaz, tourmaline, turquoise or pearl.

The law should act as an effective deterrent to crime while also providing police assistance in investigating "breaking and entering" reports. There is evidence that the increase in home burglaries is due mainly to juveniles seeking easy ways to obtain cash.

The law could reduce the number of burglaries because unscrupulous dealers would be thwarted by the stiff penalties and treble damages provisions. The law's recordkeeping and seven-day holding requirements will aid in police investigations, providing data and time for police to act.

Cubs attend day camp

More than 128 Cub Scouts attended Huron District Day Camp at Lower Huron Metro Park recently where they enjoyed a three-day outing and experienced first hand nature's many wonders and secrets.

The scouts were divided up into dens called Owls, Frogs, Turtles, Snoopy's Sharks, Casper, Indians, Woody Woodpeckers, and Pioneers.

They attended sessions in archery taught by instructor Steve Sajewski; air rifle lessons by John Banks, Tom Sullivan and Jerry Windelkin, while the Taylor Jaycees donated equipment for fire-making and crafts.

Others who participated and helped were Sherrie Saksewski, Sherrie Routhier, Malissa Bashell, and Dan Cone.

Pre-opening was handled by Ellen Skolnek; registration and refreshment by Lynn Cone; songs by Goldie Hoffman and a special bear skit and dinosaur egg hunt by scout executive Terry Miner.

The Cubs also viewed a Tae Kwon Do exhibition provided by the Wayne Karate Studio, and patches were earned by those who attended. Part of the program worked toward the Wolf and Bear badges, but the work also included a lot of fun.

minutes of the July 8, 1981 Township Board meeting as presented. Motion carried unanimously.

#722-8 Motion by Puskar. Supported by Geierman. To appoint John Chihan as the "Acting" Ordinance Officer for the Township of Huron. Motion carried unanimously.

#722-8a Motion by Carey. Supported by Bates. To instruct the Township Attorney to advise the Wayne Metropolitan Emergency Communication Network that we do not wish to participate in the communications program, that we do not intend to reimburse for the equipment which we purchased through the grant. Motion carried unanimously.

#722-2d Motion by Geierman. Supported by Ashby. To adopt the following Resolution on Recycling of Used Oil:

WHEREAS: Huron Township encourages and support local efforts which are directed toward energy conservation and, at the same time contribute to the protection of the environment, and

WHEREAS: the Rouge River Watershed Council and the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service is in the process of establishing a public service designated as "Recycle Used Oil"; and

WHEREAS: approximately sixty percent of today's automobile owners change their own oil in an effort to reduce personal transportation costs; and

WHEREAS: due to the lack of proper disposal facilities, used oil is discarded in ways which significantly contribute to pollution of our environment; and

WHEREAS: over 20 million gallons of used oil are being wasted in the State of Michigan annually, over 4 million of which comes from the County of Wayne; and

WHEREAS: through the establishment of various used-oil collection sites throughout this county and the State of Michigan much of this oil can be recycled resulting in less environmental pollution and greater energy conservation through more efficient use of our resources; and

WHEREAS: it is the intent of the "Recycle Used Oil" Program to provide locations throughout Wayne County, such as in service stations and department stores where citizens can deposit their used oil.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that Huron Township commends the Rouge River Watershed Council and the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service for its efforts in developing the "Recycle Used Oil" Program and urges all citizens of Huron Township to actively support and promote this endeavor.

Motion carried unanimously. Resolution declared adopted.

#722-10 Motion by Puskar. Supported by Geierman. To designate the Supervisor to be the Chief Finance Officer of the Township as required under P.A. 621, commonly known as the Uniform Budgeting Act of the State of Michigan. Motion carried. Sullivan abstained.

#722-11 Motion by Puskar. Supported by Geierman. To authorize the purchase of wheels, tires, axle and other miscellaneous equipment needed to complete the trailer which was built by the D.P.W. employees to carry the tractor and mowers for the maintenance of the cemeteries, etc. Total cost to be under $150.00. Motion carried unanimously.

#722-13 Motion by Bates. Supported by Carey. To send a letter to the Chief of Police commending the police officers, the Reserve officers and the dispatchers for their efficient handling of the Waltz Homecoming and their individual efforts in serving the community of Waltz in this public event. Motion carried unanimously.

Motion by Geierman. Supported by Bates. To adjourn the meeting. Motion carried.

Meeting adjourned at 9:35 P.M.

Respectfully submitted by

Chapmans mark 50th anniversary

MR. AND MRS. SIDNEY CHAPMAN

Fifty years of memories were looked back upon by Sidney and Belva Chapman on June 30 as they observed their golden wedding anniversary. But it was on June 27 that their family and friends got together to celebrate the special occasion.

Married in Pikeville, Ky., the Chapmans lived in Belfry, Ky. until 1960 when they moved to Lincoln Park for 15 years and then to Everett, Mich. for two years before moving to 30243 Dorset, Romulus, four years ago.

The former Belva Dorton and her husband are parents of 11 children, 29 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. Sidney C. Chapman, their eldest, lives in New Boston, while Jack resides in Romulus; Thomas W. in Garden City; Nancy Jude in Ecorse; Mossetta Rollins in Lincoln Park; Sue Crips in Trenton; Ronald in Willis; Flemmie in Kenton, Ohio; Ruby Church in Trenton; Brenda Leonard in Romulus and Terry in Willis.

It was in the garden of their son and daughter-in-law, Terry and Gail Chapman of Willis, that they renewed their wedding vows before The Rev. John Jones. A buffet dinner, complete with a whole roasted pig, was later served to some 100 guests who came from the aforementioned cities. A special anniversary cake, made by Mrs. Ronald (Gay) Chapman, served as centerpiece at the bridal table.

Mr. Chapman is a retired United Mine worker and his wife a retired nurse's aid, having worked at Outer Drive Hospital. The two spend their leisure time gardening and she also is involved with the Church of God in Lincoln Park.

Carousel Nursery now accepting fall applications

The Carousel Cooperative Nursery at 11900 Belleville Road is currently accepting applications for the 1981-82 school year.

A Monday-Wednesday and Tuesday-Thursday morning class schedule is available. Four-year-olds are eligible for an additional Friday class.

A registration fee of $13 is required and charges are $16 per month for the 2-day session and $22 per month for the 3-day.

In a co-op, parents assist the teacher at least two days a month, attend one meeting each month, perform a small job and participate in fund raisers; this being the method to keep costs down.

Peach pie variations

What's the fresh peach season like without plenty of delectable desserts? Probably pretty dull! Here are a couple of noteworthy examples of fresh peach pies to add to your collection.

Fluffy Peach Pie is a snap to make with help from a handy package of instant pudding and pie filling plus whipped topping mix. A layer of fresh peaches lines the bottom of a pastry crust (your own or one you've purchased). A dash of nutmeg in the filling adds a subtle spicy flavor and more peach slices decorating the top just before serving provide the proper finishing touch.

Another spectacular pie is one we call Peachy Ice Cream Pie. Again, the basis is a package of instant pudding and pie filling. This time it is blended with ice cream—so nice and smooth. Peaches on the bottom and, of course, a few on top before serving prove that the peach season should not go by without a delectable dessert or two!

Peachy Ice Cream Delight Pie

1 medium peach, peeled, pitted and sliced
1 baked 8-inch pie shell, cooled
1 cup cold milk
1 cup (½ pint) vanilla ice cream
1 package (4-serving size) Jell-O vanilla or French vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling Place peach slices in bottom of pie shell. Thoroughly blend milk and ice cream in bowl. Add pie filling mix. Beat slowly with rotary beater or at low speed of electric mixer until blended, about 1 minute. Pour immediately into pie shell. Chill until set, at least 1 hour. Garnish with additional sliced peaches and thawed frozen whipped topping, if desired.

Fluffy Peach Pie

2 envelopes Dream Whip whipped topping mix
2¼ cups cold milk
2 packages (4-serving size) Jell-O vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup sliced fresh peaches
1 baked 9-inch pie shell, cooled

Prepare whipped topping mix with 1 cup of the milk as directed on package, using large mixer bowl. Add remaining milk, pie filling mix and nutmeg. Blend; then beat at high speed for 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Place peaches in bottom of pie shell. Spoon filling over peaches. Chill at least 4 hours. Garnish with additional peach slices, dipped in lemon juice, if desired.

potpourri

By Lee Smith -- Suburban Living Editor

Those so-called "experts" are forever telling us how to run our lives -- what we're doing wrong -- often; what we're doing right, seldom. Many of them are out-to-lunch as far as I'm concerned, but, then, there ARE those who've actually been through an experience or have worked on a project and ARE qualified to give advice.

Family Circle magazine recently sent us a feature dealing with the enticing phrase, "How to double your money." And this one concerns those little gold mines of miscellanea we're all sitting on, just waiting for an enterprising person (or couple) to gather up, sort, tag and prepare for a no-fail money-maker, the all-American GARAGE SALE.

Once upon a time, yours truly and three friends put our heads together, amassed our junkie and treasures and let the public know we were "in business." At the time I thought we'd done a most commendable job (for novices) and we DID realize a good bit of pin money. But -- when I read how much MORE efficiently things can be done, I wonder how we DID do so well.

You'll earn twice as much money, Family Circle tells us, if you use the marketing techniques of garage, tag and estate sale specialists.

To begin with, think of your sale as "tag" rather than "garage" and separate your merchandise according to type and value. Items such as furniture, tableware, jewelry and clothing will sell best in the house itself, while pots and pans, appliances, old books and magazines, toys, tools and garden equipment should remain in the garage. (on the porch or on the lawn, etc.)

Advertise. Make signs on brightly colored oaktag and tack them onto trees and telephone poles, especially on main streets near your home. Make your message big, bold and brief (example: TAG SALE, JULY 12 and 13, 10 to 5, 1330 Main) and draw an arrow on the sign to point drivers in the right direction. (From a suggestion we received about a year ago when we ran peoples' pet peeves: Be SURE to put the DATE, not just the DAY of the sale.)

(Remember that decency requires you to take your signs down as soon as the sale is over! And don't forget WHERE you put them up -- in the library, super market, bank, church, laundry, etc.)

For your bulletin board notices, use an eye-catching graphic like a cardboard cutout of your house imprinted with your message.

Advertise in newspapers in your town and neighboring towns as well. It pays! Be SPECIFIC in your ads. For example, don't say: "Garage sale, moving, appliances." Instead, say: "Kitchen Aid dishwasher, 7' refrigerator-freezer, lawn tractor like new."

Display your merchandise with both sales appeal and security in mind. Arrange more-or-less valuable jewelry in a cabinet with shelves and a clear glass door. Or, in a pinch, cover a section with dark velvet and pin each item to it. Put small, valuable items on a windowsill or mantel BEHIND a table where you'll be positioned. That way they're visible and safe; if a customer wants to examine a piece, he'll have to ask you to hand it over.

Naturally, setting the right price is essential. To find out what your more valuable pieces might go for, take them to a few antique dealers and try to sell them, anything you later get over the price they offer you is pure gravy.

Last, and certainly not least, Family Circle recommends the following security measures:

- Have at least one "guard" stationed in each room open to the public.
- Rope off areas of your home not in use and post signs to that effect.
- Have only one door through which customers can leave and seat the cashier near that door.

• List your major items with their prices and keep this list near the cash box. This way the cashier can double-check each transaction.

And now "potpourri" would like to add a few suggestions which were useful in those sales of the past.

• Be prepared to bargain with customers. Decide beforehand the items on which you'll cut prices and those you won't.

• Those gummed stickers found at office supply stores are ideal for pricing merchandise with smooth surfaces. Little tags and pins are best for clothing. Try to have sizes on the latter and also attempt to have the same sizes together, working up from small to large.

• Toys are good sellers but, remember, patrons will arrive with tots and toddlers in tow. So anything with small pieces (games and puzzles) should be out of their reach. The more sturdy stuff, however, should be put at their eye level; they just might convince Mom they "need" that doll or trike or wagon.

• "Bargain" boxes or baskets, for some reason, have great appeal. Throw in your bits and pieces and label the container. "Your choice, 25 cents" or whatever price you decide upon.

• A small, private spot for a "dressing room" is not too bad an idea either. And since people DO request trying on clothing, you might as well be prepared in advance rather than allowing them to traipse through your house.

• Have change on hand and don't keep too large a supply of bills in evidence. Don't tempt those with "sticky fingers."

- Keep your cool, everyone isn't polite, wear a comfortable pair of shoes, keep a comfortable stool or chair handy and something tall and icy available.

P.S. -- You're going to be amazed at what sells and what doesn't!

STILL MORE ON THE AVERAGE AMERICAN

Two thirds of married couples say an occasional big argument is useful to "clear the air."

Sociologists say that the average person picks up the opinions and attitudes that are important to him from his parents and peers, not from analyzing information and ideas.

Almost one baby in 20 in the United States is born to a woman who is over the age of 35.

One American in three has high blood pressure. And your chances increase if you're old, poor, black or uneducated.

On an average day in America, one of every six of us sits down with a good book.

Baby girls can expect to live to age 76½ -- seven and a half years longer than baby boys. That's why widows outnumber widowers in the U.S. three to one.

On average, according to sociologists, night-shift workers scrap with their spouses more than day-shift workers do.

THE BOTTOM LINE: At a cocktail party, half the people don't know how much they've had, and the other half don't know how much they've said!

Weddings planned

Vincze-Hudson

Marilyn J. Vincze and Fred E. Hudson are engaged and making plans for their Sept. 12 wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vendel J. Vincze of 9470 Buntion Rd., Willis. The bride-elect, a graduate of Lincoln High School and Washenaw Community College, is employed at Belleville Animal Hospital. Hudson, who resides at 14045 Elwell Rd., is the son of Ralph Hudson of Plainwell and the late Helen Hudson. A graduate of Lake Michigan College and a member of the Belleville Kiwanis Club and Michigan Heart Association, he is employed by Detroit Edison.

Beem-Chadwick

St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus will be the setting this fall for the September 26 wedding of Debbie Lynn Beem and Daniel Joseph Chadwick, both of Romulus. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Beem of 39140 Chase Rd., Romulus, the bride-elect graduated in 1980 from Romulus High School and is now working for Road Engineers, Inc. Her fiancé, a 1977 Romulus High School graduate, is the son of Mrs. Nellie Chadwick of 39001 Chase Rd., Romulus.

Tressler-Hudge

The engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Cindy Lou Tressler, to Michael Scott Hudge is announced by Ralph and Jean Tressler of Savage Road, Belleville. A graduate of Belleville High School in 1979, the bride-to-be is employed by National Bank of Ypsilanti. Her fiancé, who resides in Ann Arbor, is the son of William and Florence Hudge of Elwell Road, Belleville. A 1975 alumnus of Belleville High School, he is employed by North American Van Lines. A September 5 altar date at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville is planned.

FICTION

"Getting Through" by John Mc Gahern. The stories in this collection are set in the author's native Ireland and many of them are concerned with the fragile relationships between men and women — the difficulty of their coming together, the impossibility of commitment, the certainty of loneliness. There is Irish stubbornness, Irish raffishness and especially subtle Irish wit.

"Gamenaker" by David Copher. There were 49,781 fans at Yankee Stadium that Saturday afternoon and not one of them had heard the shot. The noise level of the crowd is always high at Yankee Stadium; during a big play, the uproar becomes almost deafening. This afternoon, the cheering crescendoed as Willie Bush sped to his rendezvous with Zeke Lopez fly ball; and when Jones made his spectacular catch, nearly 50,000 throats barked their approval. The uproar continued almost unabated even as Bush lay crumpled at the foot of the wall. It died abruptly when Bush did not move.

"The Survivor" by Jack Eisner. The story of an exceptional person, with the vision to capture his own tenacious fight for survival and the heroism and dignity of all those who retained their humanity in the midst of the Holocaust.

Rainbow Girls attend Grand Assembly in Tampa

Rainbow Girls, Denise and Roberta Welt, Dawn Nowacek of Royal Oak and Laurie Dyer of Novi recently returned from a trip to Tampa, Fla., where they attended a grand assembly. While in Florida for two weeks, they visited Disney World, Lake Buena Vista, Daytona Beach,

Clearwater and "Wet and Wild."

Guests this past week of Mr. and Mrs. William Graham were their daughter, Mrs. Rock Malloy of Winnipeg, Manito., and a friend, Mrs. Peter Wardell from Grimsby, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Panter and three daughters from Lambeth, Ont. were Wednesday evening guests of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Herkimer of Lake Wales, Fla. have been visiting relatives and calling on friends in the city this past week.

Mrs. S. C. Pierman and houseguest, Mrs. Lewis Pierman of Ottawa, Ohio, were weekend guests of the former's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Preuninger of Manchester. On Sunday they were callers on the ladies' niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Tomson at Rockford.

Friends, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Runyon, Sarasota, Fla., have been guests this past week of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Murphy.

Saturday evening, July 18, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flavell Jr. entertained at a barbeque and pool party at their home on Traskos Road in celebration of the summer birthdays in the Flavell and Hamilton families. Honored guests were Mrs. S. R.

(Rachel) Hamilton, Mrs. Richard (Deborah) Flavell, Mrs. Fred (Barbara) Flavell, Patti Tator and Lisa Hamilton. Other members of the two families were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Light have returned from Naples, Fla. where they had been called by the illness and death of their daughter, Mrs. Michael (Suzanne) Wittenburg on July 16 at 30 years of age.

Mrs. Light had previously spent several weeks with her daughter prior to her death. Friends of the family extend sincere sympathy to the family.

Mrs. Joe Parker of Glenzie, formerly of the area, spent several days last week with members of her family. Her son, John Parker, left July 16 for Nashville, Tenn. where he had been invited to have an audition with Country Western Star, Mel Tillis.

Guests this past week at the Vernon Ketchum home were a brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ketchum from Seven Springs, Fla.

After having been a patient at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn, for several days, Mrs. George Haft returned home July 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell

Seaman spent Tuesday, July 21, with their daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Gregory Gorga, in Bloomfield Township and helped their granddaughter, Carrie Beth, celebrate her fourth birthday.

Mrs. Norma Nagle of Dearborn was a Sunday guest of her sister, Mrs. Ruth Roulo. In the afternoon the ladies called on a family friend, Mrs. Lenora Clymer at the Nightingale West Rest Home in Westland.

On Sunday, July 19, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wright of Northville hosted a dinner at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor, celebrating the July birthdays of their mother, Mrs. Donald (Edna) Wright of Ypsilanti and their aunt, Mrs. S. R. (Rachel) Hamilton of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens and daughter, Suzanne, spent the weekend at Morenci with Mrs. Stevens' mother, Mrs. Chester Shaup.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr and daughter, Lynn, and friend were among the 40 members of the Johnson family at their annual reunion Sunday, July 19, at White Beach. Members making the longest trip came from Brownwood, Texas while others came from Mansfield and Enon, Ohio, Millington and Flint.

Mrs. Lester Heywood of Farmington Hills was a weekend guest of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Robson.

Mrs. Orlo Wright of Willis was a caller Tuesday afternoon on Mrs. Norman Miller.

The annual picnic of the Past Matron's Association of Belleville Chapter No. 73, OES was held at the home of Homer and Frances Cothorn on Bemis Road. The 17 members present enjoyed a bountiful meal and an afternoon of visiting.

Square dance promoters

Tyler Road School was the location for the 100th day of the "One Couple Square Dance Marathon" self-sponsored by Leroy and Leveda Reeves of Trenton. Since taking square dance lessons some 1½ years ago, the Reeveses have become avid enthusiasts of the pastime and took it upon themselves to further promote the social activity. Having spent almost 100 consecutive days dancing with different clubs throughout Michigan, they chose Belleville as the spot for their "grand finale" since they had earlier found the area to be a place of beauty, peacefulness and extreme friendliness. On their 100th appearance, which was witnessed by over 100 spectators, they were guests of the Maple Leaf Squares Club which has Jack King as its caller.

In Our Opinion

Police criticism was unjust

Mayor William Oakley of Romulus is angry, and we believe rightly so. He says people hide behind their "First Amendment" and take swings at things they know little or nothing about. For example, his police department came under verbal blast from a "concerned citizen" on these pages last week by a "concerned citizen."

And when Mayor Oakley and members of City Council tried to trace the "concerned citizen" or the name he - or she - used to write the letter, there was no trace of him.

Naturally, we won't reveal the name of the writer because he - or she - had ample reason to be concerned over his - or hers - job.

The letter, the mayor believes, shouldn't have been published, under those circumstances, that is, unless we can verify the writer's legitimate name.

There is some validity to what the mayor says.

But, if newspapers, and especially weekly newspapers which do not have the luxury of staff, have to bisect and dissect each and every piece of mail that crosses our desk, the paper would never hit the street.

And that, indeed, would be a shame because we are convinced - by the number of legitimate letters we are receiving that people do read us.

Back to the mayor.

Mayor Oakley is right, however, when he says the letterwriters should reserve their criticism of the city's newly-organized police department. The department, born out of the controversy that sounded the knell for the Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol, should be commended for taking command as it has and doing the work that was once handled by a veteran sheriff's department.

How can one criticize something that has just gotten off the ground. Just begun to put the pieces together, as the saying goes.

And we agree with him.

The Romulus Police Department, with its experienced police Chief, Donald Flood, who is a retired state trooper, has accomplished in a short span the near impossible; they have provided protection and safety for the residents, established a channel where help can be found, and quickly at that, and have, in general, build excellent community relations.

There are always those who will and would criticize.

And we can't change that.

But, may we again assure Mayor Oakley and our readers that although we will never publish an anonymous letter, however the writer also has a right to be protected if he - or she - feels that there could be some sort of retaliation if their name is published.

City Hall and me

I know that you receive a lot of letters criticizing City Hall, and the people in office. And I'm sure that some of that criticism is justifiable.

However, may I offer this viewpoint at what happened when I asked the city of Inkster to help solve one of our problems.

First, I would publicly like to thank Inkster city treasurer Bruce Cook and Councilman Robert Cullen for all of their outstanding efforts and hard work concerning the correction of conditions in the alley at Cherry Hill Plaza.

Mr. Cook, acting as city manager while Mr. Wylie Williams was away, was superb!

It is rewarding to finally have a city official listen to our complaints, come out and see for themselves our problems, and then attempt to solve it.

It's just too bad that their hard work was all in vain!

I think it is about time that our city officials stop thinking about revenues that they receive from businesses and start enforcing city ordinances.

If the patrons of Cherry Hill Plaza would take the time to look behind the stores before they park in front of the stores, I'm sure that nothing edible would be purchased.

The motto of Inkster is "Moving Forward Together." Come on city officials - Why are you afraid to move?

Bring back the deputies

Lately your articles regarding our Romulus Police Force just forces me to write.

First of all, I am not a police officer, however I have had the opportunity to observe and work closely with them.

In your articles regarding our new Police Force, you stress their professionalism and experience.

Professionalism? That's a joke. I have seen them in action and in my opinion they are the most unprofessional group I have ever encountered.

Experienced? In what? Jails, dispatch? Definitely not street experience. They do not handle calls properly - they definitely do not respond in a decent time (some calls take up to 1-2 hours).

We in Romulus never had this with the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol.

In my opinion the only thing they are good at is in being seen. High visibility is their only experience. But, this does not help any of us residents in a time of need. We need help, not visibility.

Mayor William Oakley must know by now what a miserable mistake he and Council have made. There is still enough time for him to rectify this - if he has the best interests of the citizens of Romulus in mind.

The Other Side of the Meridian

Once upon a time...

By TOM MOORADIAN Managing Editor

Once upon a time . . .

Oh, how many times we have all heard that beginning, the words of which opened the doors to dragons, witches' curses, and beautiful princes and knights that came galloping to the fair damsel's rescue.

And, for some reason or other, the story always ended "and they lived happily ever after."

Strange isn't it as the world is preparing to witness a fairy-like story come true: the royal wedding of Prince Charles and Lady Diana?

There is within me, a fear that something awesome will happen in Westminster Abbey, or en route to the wedding.

Why is it that on this day I can think of how some infamous people like to rewrite history and assure themselves of a page or two? Like Oswald?

Of, as in recent months the infamous acts of assassination about the Pope and President Reagan. These are strange times.

And I am sure writers in the past felt the same, for there have always been acts that have enraged the "common and decent man".

This marriage made in heaven will probably go without incident. A historic rite for people who seem to live in the past and thrive in tradition.

But England and its crowned heads have always had their arch-enemies.

And the sadness and tragedy that hovers Ireland today, the unstoppable religious wars that has enveloped the entire Empire could prompt a chain of events that could lead to only chaos if the unthinkable should happen.

If a person is willing to starve himself to death to prove a point in northern Ireland, would he not be willing to sit atop of a building and wait and wait and wait . . . ?

I would not be a member of the Scotland Yard for all the money in the world if the fairy-like story should end with the witch's curse prevailing over the good.

But, again, how many fairy stories have you ever heard that ever ended without the young prince and beautiful princess riding off on their white horse to a castle atop of a mountain, and "living happily ever after?"

Citizens are now listening in on government

2-way cable system provides vehicle

Any of the 848,000 citizens of Broward County (Ft. Lauderdale), Fla. can now listen in on weekly commissioner's meetings from the comfort of their own homes. And that's a mighty convenience, considering those 10 a.m. Tuesday meetings often last until 2 a.m. the next day!

Designed by county employees in conjunction with the Southern Bell Telephone Co. the system permits individuals to dial a number and be connected. Soon, supplementary lines will give commissioners ability to call people on the phone and allow them to participate in the meetings too.

The system is just one electronic method cities and counties are using to reach out to constituents. Communities wired for cable television possess unlimited potential to educate voters about daily working of government - and not just during election years.

Electronic technology can protect taxpayers from fraud, and help municipal employees gain bipartisan support for necessary community services. Beyond these considerations is the fact that in a democratic society, citizens are entitled to be privy to the deliberations of their elected government body.

Counties, once just arms of states for elections, corrections and records, have become the local government that delivers far-reaching services to 95 percent of the U.S. population. Dusty, musty courthouses are transformed into bustling county buildings providing everything from clean air to child abuse prevention. Persons seeking legal aid, consumer protection and senior citizen job training now look to his county for help.

All this activity makes for never-ending drama - in Broward County at least - where the 300-seat hearing room fills up at least once a day.

Broward is the fastest-growing county in Florida. It is facing decisions about its future that will have wide impact, and commissioners need as much public involvement as they can get. Budget items, jail construction, questions of zoning, school board hearings and bond issues are among recent debates via the phones.

The system was originally intended for county employees who are often required to testify. Because individual agenda items generate varied discussion, it is difficult to determine when a specific point will come up.

"Employees can now monitor the meetings from their offices rather than waste half a day waiting their turn," explained Lawrence T. Bland, project coordinator. The first nine lines installed were continuously busy, so the county is now expanding service, ultimately, to 98 lines. The first six months of operation cost about $1400.

Bland says the county is also negotiating with a local cable television company to wire the meeting room for broadcast, as Dade County, Fla., and Hennepin County, Minn. have done. Bland said the ability to broadcast from the courthouse would improve communications to citizens from the county's emergency operations center during hurricanes.

The cities of Irvine, Modesto, Calif., Marion, Ind., Portsmouth, N.H., Winchester, Va. and Glavaston, Texas, are among municipalities whose city council meetings are aired via cable television, as are occasional hearings of the Arlington County, Va. board and school board.

Oklahoma County (Midwest City), Okla., and Springfield, Ohio have regular public affairs programs on cable TV, featuring local government officials. Then there is Cable Satellite Public Affairs Network (C-SPAN), providing interviews with Washington politicians and bureaucrats, conducted and taped by high school students for high school students.

Thus, the media is clearly becoming a visible force in elections as well. It will soon be possible for a much wider range of local officials to be seen and hear. In fact, regulations have already been written to ensure fair and equal coverage.

But it is, still, commission and council meetings where the real-life decisions are made. Electronic access to these sessions has the potential to expose - and excite - a new generation of voters - an electronic age - to the reality of political life.

News release on bankruptcy was misleading

EDITOR — A recent news release by the sponsors of bankruptcy restriction legislation gave the misleading impression that the Legislature is almost ready to pass a bill which would remove the availability of federal bankruptcy exemptions and require Michigan residents to use the less-protective Michigan exemptions.

In fact, this bill had no consumer group support when it was reported out by the House Corporations and Finance Committee. The bill is an attempted end-run around the federal bankruptcy law by banks and those who sponsored the bill for them in the Legislature.

The current federal provisions are barely adequate at best. Under them, a bankrupt person loses all of his or her assets except $7,500 in residential real estate and personal property, an old car worth up to $1,200, $750 in tools of the bankrupt's trade, and other small items.

What the bill in the State Legislature means is that people who have to go bankrupt (almost always as a last resort) could only keep their home if the equity they held was below $3,500, and the other exemptions would be smaller as well.

This bill would almost certainly result in many more foreclosures on the homes of unemployed workers.

The Michigan law has not been revised since 1961, and inflation has made it totally outdated. It also has quaint provisions allowing people to keep ten sheep, two cows, five swine, and feed for them for six months.

Concerned consumers should join the fight to prevent HB 4409 from becoming law. The federal law now in effect reflects a reasonable minimum chance to start over, and going bankrupt means that a person will have a hard time getting credit in the future. Because of our state's economic crisis, many hard-working citizens are unemployed due to no fault of their own. Many have been reduced to desperate straits and forced into bankruptcy. We should not make it even harder for them to start over.

Seniors say 'correct it'

EDITOR — We, members of the Van Buren Senior Citizens' September Days were especially pleased to have captured the front page of the local newspaper last week. However, there were some errors in the captions to the photos that must be corrected.

Two pictures with captions were published Wednesday, July 22nd, depicting the September Days Senior Citizens Monthly Birthday Party.

Your captions are in great error. This is a monthly birthday party, not an annual one. There were fifteen birthday persons honored at a specially decorated table. There were also ten birthday cakes served and MacDonald's birthday cake lady was also present to serve the cakes.

Our group is the September Days Senior Citizens, not the Belleville Senior Citizens nor the Belleville, Van Buren Seniors.

We are wondering who imparted all the information and hope you will contact the proper parties for information in the future.

Taxes taxes and more taxes

EDITOR — I recently received my 1981 tax statements from the City of Westland and I couldn't believe the incredible amount of the increase and, believe me, I can't wait for another election.

The increase, I am told, came about because of Public Act 114. This law was passed by the politicians in Lansing.

Because of this raise the schools get another dip in our pockets for $200 and in some cases much more.

Recently the renewal of 32 mills was approved by the voters of the Wayne-Westland school district. Now you may ask, how come I have to pay so much more? The answer is simple. If the local politicians don't get you, the good ol' boys in Lansing will.

Now to add insult to injury our City Council voted 7-0 to collect the school taxes twice a year. The council seems to get very generous with the taxpayers' money.

The property owners have learned from the past that state equalization taxes always go up-never down.

By checking your tax bill you will note that under the total tax figure there is a tax amount without an explanation.

This is the 1% collection fee on your property taxes. The 1% collection fee is unconstitutional, so ruled by Circuit Court Judge Alice Gilber. The case is pending in the appellate court.

I have questioned the city treasurer about the omission and was told the tax forms were printed early.

I have contacted the attorney general office, and was informed that if the taxpayers feel aggrieved by paying the 1% collection fee, they should accompany payment thereof by a written protest. Based upon that written protest, the taxpayer would then be able to seek a refund in the Michigan Tax Tribunal.

Seniors tour disappointing

EDITOR — On June the tenth, 1981, thirty-eight of us Senior Citizens left on a trip to ELGIN HOUSE at Port Carling, Ontario, Canada.

We all paid our fee of $179.00 each to ADVENTURE TRAVEL SERVICE, for this trip. After boarding the bus we found windows broken, cushions from arm rests off leaving bare metal exposed, backs of back rests off.

The rest room, very dirty, filthy and unsanitary.

No toilet paper, hand towels or water. The Air Conditioner working only half of the time. When working it filled the back of the bus with a burning rubber smoke. Several Senior Citizens were sick on the trip and several days after.

The Emergency door flew open three inches while highway driving. We used scotch tape to help hold it shut. There was no communication equipment on bus, or tools to make minor repairs. The busses front bumper was dangerously loose. These are a few of the discrepancies we had to put up with.

The hazardous condition of this bus could of killed all Senior Citizens and more. We have contacted by telephone, a Mr. Gary Sampson who is referred to as President of ADVENTURE TRAVEL SERVICE. He is fully aware of the hardships and problems he subjected us to. However, has failed to return my call or answer to my letter.

Our complaints are good ones and we feel justified in seeking assistance or help in stopping a travel company from charging the high dollar and giving the transportation not fit for hogs.

In this case the Senior Citizen was taken.

Cullen supporter offers accolades

EDITOR — As a resident of Van Buren Township, I feel that Supervisor Cullen is doing a splendid job even though action taken by a majority of the Board of Trustees has, is, and appears that it will continue to adversely affect Van Buren Township.

Since the appointment of the new Police Commissioner and the appointment of the new Police Chief, the public meetings at the Township seem to be stacked against Supervisor Cullen by those Board Members who choose individuals loyal to them instead of employees who serve the people with knowledge and experience. If dollars don't count to the majority of the Board Members (except in their pay checks) then who is paying the legal fees in Van Buren Township for the three fired employees?

A Police Reserve proposal was presented at a recent Board Meeting. If the head of that Department can outfit ten members of a reserve unit for $3,015.00 per year, what is the cost of outfitting ten part-time paid members? Maybe we should have the past Police Commissioner and the past Chief of Police come back for about six months and show the boys how it's done.

Reflections

Mom....like in shazam

There is one word in the English language which can turn me into a whirling mass of energy which knows no bounds. No matter where I am, just let me hear a cry of "mom" and I am off like a bolt of lightning, charging at the crowds in front of me, leaping over counters, running down an up escalator, roaring and bellowing, trying to find the source of that voice which had yelled "mom."

Sometimes I get kind of embarrassed about this super-charged turn-on of mine, but most of the time I can tell myself that it is only natural after having raised six kids over a span of thirty-four years.

It's kind of like a time-war where memory plays over and over the same old recording and I react in the same old way. So you see, I can usually talk myself out of any embarrassment. That is, unless my husband happens to be with me.

That is what happened only yesterday. We were milling around in a crowd close to a lake, when suddenly I heard the terror-stricken voice of a youngster shouting "Mom."

Off I went, skimming the sandy beach, leaping over browning bodies being roasted on their tin-foil in the hot sun, splashing through the water lapping at the shore, and back up on the hot sand, all the time responding to that childish cry of "Mom."

A huge sand castle loomed before me, and I couldn't stop in time. That is, my feet stopped in time, but the rest of me couldn't. Down into the turrets of that wet, sandy castle my body plopped, and that castle was demolished like no castle had ever been demolished by the knights of old.

"Mom," a kid shrieked, and I brought my face up out of the medieval courtyard, and looked the little kid right in his bawling face.

"I'm here," I said, but it didn't calm him like it was supposed to. He just bawled louder, and hollered "Mom, Mom" while kicking sand in my face.

His mom and my husband got there at the same time. His mom picked up her squalling kid, wiped the tears from his face and turned a baleful look on me.

"He worked hours on that castle," she said.

"I'm sorry," I muttered, but I don't think anyone could really hear my apology, because my mouth was so full of sand, what with the castle crumbling, and the bawling kid kicking sand in it.

My husband laid hold of me, and tugged and pulled, trying to get me back onto the sandy beach and out of the squalling kid's turrets. When at last he had achieved this phenomenal task, he stood looking at me, as I brushed sand out of my eyes, and nose and hair.

"Now, maybe you will learn," he said in the non-stop way he has of saying things he wants someone to learn. Maybe you will learn that everytime you hear "mom" being yelled it isn't necessarily you they want."

He was feeling pretty cross I could tell, and between his crossness and the kid's bawling and the mother's balefulness, my composure crumbled. The sand wasn't helping it any.

Tears sprung to my eyes, and my mouth puckered, although I don't think it was because I was going to cry or anything, it was probably because it wasn't used to so much sand in it.

And it was probably reacting to the thought that one can't always tell what makes sand wet, can one?

Well, there I stood before my husband with mouth puckering and eyes watering, and it made him feel compassionate, I guess, for he put his arm around me and patted me, and said,

"Who do you think you are... the mother of the Universe?"

And I nodded yes. That's the feeling one gets in thirty-four years of active motherhood.

We looked like a classroom of interns as the doctor stood outside the operating room doors and explained, while Mom lay on the stretcher, exactly what the procedure would be and how we would be notified of the outcome. He even asked if any of us had any questions and would we like coffee while we waited.

When they decided to put her in Intensive Care after her surgery, two of us stood in the hallway and asked each other why. Whereupon, a doctor who just happened to be walking by — and wasn't even on the case — stopped to reassure us and told us it was normal procedure for a patient her age.

The interesting thing about all this was that we had all, at one time or another, been treated so poorly in various hospitals, that those few simple acts of friendliness and common courtesy totally amazed us.

It occurred to us, too, that it didn't take any more time for those people to reassure us than it would have for them to tell us to get out of there and go sit in a corner somewhere.

What a sharp contrast from our own local hospital, where the only ones who ever smiled at a family member were our own doctors and the nurses on the floor.

Which was why we worked so hard at foiling that nasty receptionist and made a bee-line for the haven of the ward.

And which is why, no matter who would like me to, I refuse to feel even a morsel of remorse.

Mona Grigg

Patients' families are people, too

After three weeks of sitting in a hospital waiting for our youngest daughter to recover from a devils bow with a perforated appendix, I've come to the conclusion that most hospitals are fine places for patients but no place for families.

And that's a strange how-do-you-do when you consider that few patients enter those doors without at least a few family members chewing their bottom lips over their welfare.

Why do hospital staff treat family members like they have the plague?

Once, in this same hospital, my husband and I waited for three hours for a receptionist to tell us when our eldest daughter was out of recovery and back in her room (She was five-years-old and it was a tonsillectomy).

At one point, she mumbled something like "Griff," and we asked her if maybe she didn't mean "Grigg."

She looked at us as though we had just crawled out from under a rock and said through gritted teeth that she would call us when it was our turn.

Well, we were young and timid then, and even though we never saw or heard the "Griff" family respond, we waited nervously for the keeper of the names to call us.

As I said, after three hours, when she didn't even look our way, we went back up and asked her again. She harrumphed at us and called pediatrics, whereupon the floor nurse informed her that if we didn't get up there pronto and take care of that screaming kid, there was going to be a lynching when they got hold of us.

We were not so timid this time. Before our daughter was taken into the operating room, I told everyone I could get my hands on the story of the five-year-old and how to spell "Grigg." I guess I got my point across, because one of the floor nurses suggested that we should just come back up to her room after the doctors had spoken to us after surgery.

It seemed like a great idea to us — until we tried to get past the receptionist. She said no way and go sit down and she would call us the instant our daughter was back in her room.

I might have believed her, except in the short time I had been upstairs waiting for our daughter to go into surgery, I had already met two families who had been waiting in the lobby for hours for word about their children, when all the time they were back in their rooms, and yes — the nurses were ready to lynch.

From then on, it became a game with me. I was going to get by that receptionist, come Hell or High Water. As it turned out, the method was so simple, it was laughable — and I would tell you what it is, except I wasn't the only one doing it — and people are still having to resort to it today — and if I told you, they would post guards at every passageway to take care of those scoundrels known as "families."

And please, staff members, don't write and tell me you must treat people that way to maintain order — that's hogwash.

The nurses on the floors are the ones who should decide when and where the families should be. Especially in pediatrics.

In our case, our daughter was 14 years old and in a room by herself. She went through a particularly tough time with an appendix that perforated, then abscessed, and had to be operated on twice.

For almost three weeks, her fever fluctuated from 100 to 104 degrees. She never once complained throughout the whole ordeal, much to the nurses (and even her gruff old bear of a doctors') surprise.

And the reason she didn't was because either her father or I were there during most of her waking hours.

If they told her something had to be done and she looked at us and saw we were calm, then she was calm.

To leave that child alone to face some of the things that had to be done to her was, to my mind, unthinkable.

Fortunately, the nurses on the floor — mothers all, no doubt — agreed. They were thoughtful and kind and even, at times, grateful for my presence. We spent long afternoons, my daughter and I, reading or watching the soaps. I helped her with her bedpan and her bath and washed and brushed her hair.

When the beeper on her IV went off, I learned how to get it flowing again. When her meals came and she was too weak to lift her arms, either my husband or I fed her. We were there to reassure her when they told her they would have to operate a second time.

It seems to me that "total patient care" should mean letting the families share in it, too. Nothing terrible will happen, believe me. And if by chance you get some fools in there who bring Big Macs when Big Macs aren't allowed or who've read in "Woman's Day" that the surgery just performed probably wasn't necessary — or who are noisy or boisterous and are making total nuisances of themselves, then you take steps to remove them.

The idea of families participating in patient care isn't new — it's being done in hospitals all over the country. One hospital close to home, for instance, which has developed a "families are people, too" concept is Pontiac Osteopathic.

Recently, when my mother-in-law had surgery, all 11 siblings and spouses descended upon that building en masse. Instead of being overwhelmed, every staff member we descended upon treated us as human beings, if not royalty.

More on Van Buren

EDITOR — For the past several weeks now, I have read letters in your newspaper which are obviously either very contradictory or untrue. Since the resignation of the former Police Commissioner and the retired Police Chief, it would appear to the reader that the Van Buren Police Department is falling apart at the seams. There has been no comment from the new Police Commissioner about the Fourth of July weekend which your newspaper has published several different points of view.

In the July 8th edition of the Belleville Enterprise, Montgomery said the Fourth was calm, a couple of fender benders. A letter to the editor by "Very Concerned in Van Buren" wrote in detail the nature of the crimes from rape to one possible suicide.

"Also Very Concerned" writes that they were impressed with the number of complaints handled by the Van Buren Police Department. Now comes Montgomery again. His concern is not to set the record straight and admit that the July Fourth weekend was not calm, but it appears he is more concerned with shutting off a "pipeline" which is unidentifiable.

Why are Command Officers so concerned about plugging a "pipeline" of "PUBLIC" information when they should be guiding and setting examples for the patrol officers? No one wants to inhibit the Police Department by endangering their sources of information; however, what becomes a matter of public record is not a pipeline to be sealed.

"Also Concerned in Van Buren" has misled your readers by stating that Supervisor Cullen said we do not need a full time Police Department because there is not enough crime in Van Buren Township.

This statement is absolutely and unequivocally false. Supervisor Cullen, "Van Buren's Finest" (the lady up front for those who wonder), stated many times and recently at a public board meeting and I quote: "What we need is a millage passed to pay for police because we don't have that kind of money. The only way that Van Buren can have their own controlled protection is by having their own full service which is very costly."

If people feel that that is a good investment then we'll have it because this Township Board cannot assess millage without a millage approval for a full time department. When the majority of the people in Van Buren feel that full time department is necessary, I'm sure we'll have it; but I don't know that they feel that way yet." So as was stated by "Also Concerned", "Let the people decide..." is exactly what Supervisor Cullen has always said. Also, let it be shown when Supervisor Cullen has ever "come down" on any appointed official or employee without just cause.

Supervisor Cullen did not create the job of part-time secretary in the Police Department. It is public record as was confirmed by the Township that this position has been part-time for several years in conjunction with the Ceta Coordinator's position.

Originally the part-time police secretarial work was performed by the Deputy Clerk (first Kobish, then Soja) and subsequently assigned to various Clerk's office personnel. Once the Ceta Coordinator's duties were drastically diminished because of the reduced number of CETA employees being employed by the Township, the Ceta Coordinator's position was cut to half-time and the police secretary's half-time duties were given to the Ceta Coordinator. Respectively those employees to hold the position of Ceta Coordinator were Jan Wyman, Denise Grow and Beatrice McCormick. Eventually there were only two CETA personnel still employed at the Township and the Township Auditor recommended assigning the Coordinator's duties to the Community Developer and Grants Coordinator because of the cut in funding availability to pay for that position. At that time, the police secretarial duties were once again done by office employees as assigned by the Clerk. At the recommendation of the Clerk, Van Buren was fortunate enough to assign the police secretarial duties to the Constable, an experienced former police officer who had been a part-time police secretary in approximately 1975. However, regardless of who filled the position — the Constable or the new employee (former CETA employee) — on a one to one/secretary to secretary basis, I fail to see where paying the new secretary approximately $16,000.00 per year as opposed to doubling the part-time secretary's salary which would have amounted to approximately $12,000.00 per year saves the Township money. Furthermore, according to the news articles, the part-time secretary was not even considered for the full-time position. Why?

Also, why should the Supervisor or any member of the Board make the assumption that the head of the Police Department could not present at any given time figures from the log book. After all, where does his responsibilities lie and according to the newspaper article, Montgomery states: "The Chief of Police of Van Buren Township knows more about what goes on in Van Buren Township than you give him credit."

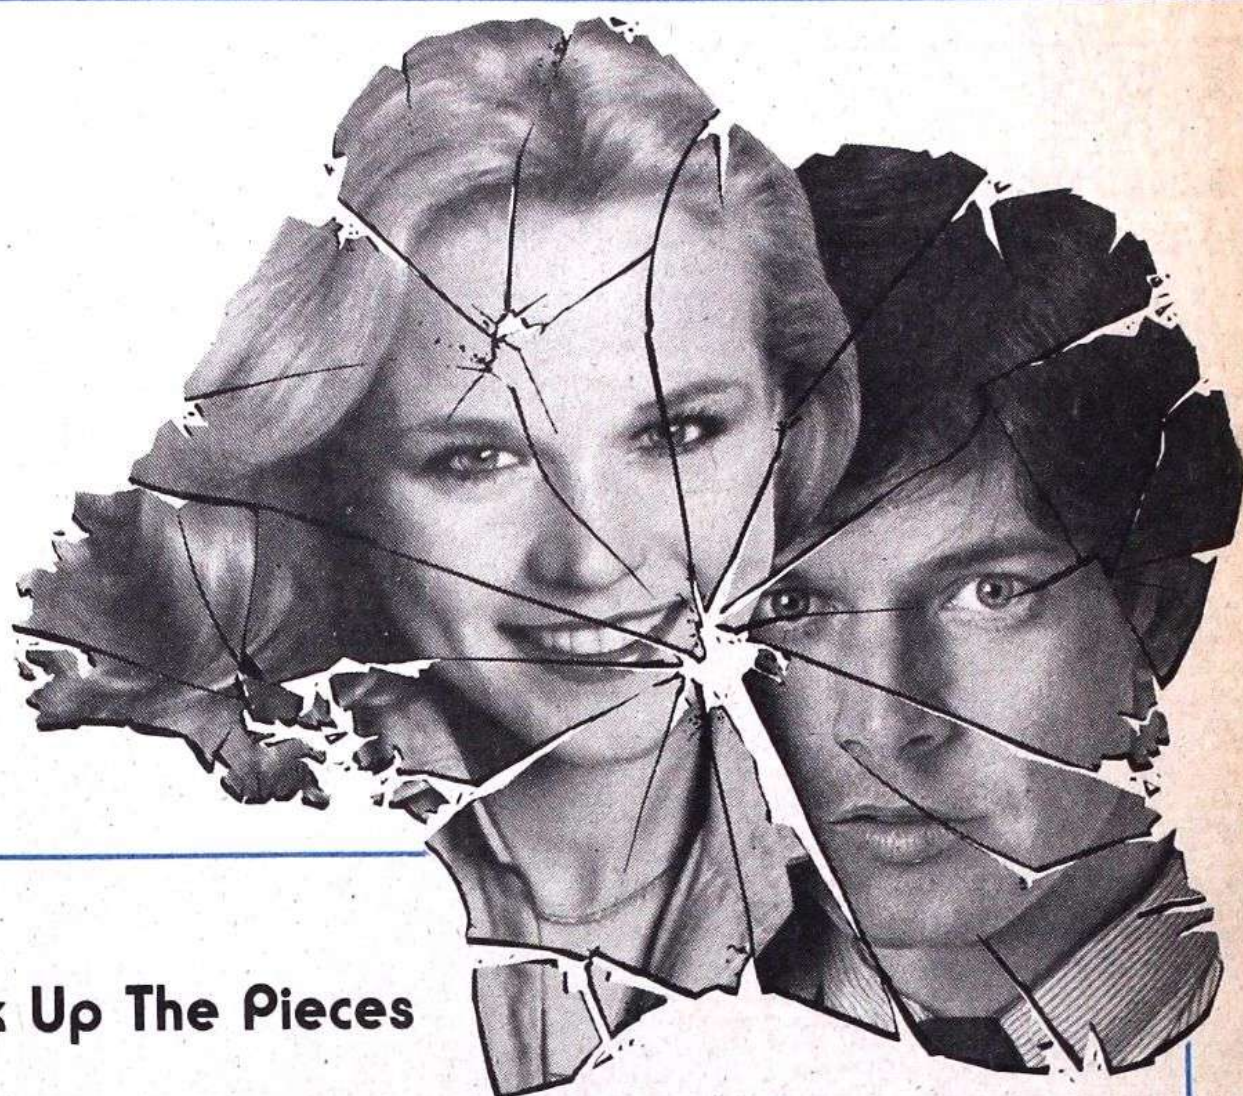

In conclusion, I must say to "Also Concerned" that if "We, the people" are to decide if and when we want a full time police department why is the part-time police department organizing this move instead of "We, the People" who must pay the millage.

ONE OF "WE, THE PEOPLE"
Van Buren

P.S. Why didn't the newspaper point out the fact in an editor's note that most of the Letters to the Editor in your July 22nd edition were written by either police officers or police officer's wives — who all have a personal vested interest in wages when going from a part-time to a full time police department.

SPINAL ADJUSTMENTS ACT QUICKLY TO RELIEVE . . .

Half the fun of living is food. The exciting, tasty dishes prepared by mother for a gala Holiday are sumptuous and tempting. The dinner bell rings, the whole gang comes roaring to the table. Then, when their stomachs are stuffed to the bursting point . . . here comes the tastiest, gooiest, meltingest temptation of all, the big chocolate cake, the pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, and a large bowl of ambrosia.

When food enters the mouth, the brain which is the only power plant of the body receives a signal which puts the nervous system into action. Immediately the flow of saliva (which is an enzyme called ptyalin) changes starchy foods to sugar which is the first chemical change preparing the food for digestion.

Food is then passed to the pharynx where this powerful nerve energy starts the muscles of the pharynx working to force the food down the esophagus (the path to the stomach).

When food arrives in the stomach, the nerves of the stomach start the millions of glands producing gastric juices which contain hydrochloric acid, pepsin and rennin. Then by nerve energy the muscular walls of the stomach churn the food to mix it thoroughly with the gastric juice. Small amounts of food are now pushed into the small intestine, which is 23 feet long where the major part of digestion occurs. Secretions from the liver and pancreas insure the splitting of the foods into substances which can be absorbed into the blood.

The large intestine, which is only about 5 feet long, passes the indigestible part of the food out of the body.

The entire digestive system depends on nerve power from the brain to function properly. When this powerful nerve energy is impaired by displaced vertebrae in the spine, muscular activity is lessened. Glands cannot function properly, food will not digest, resulting in stomach disorders.

Conditions of the stomach that respond successfully to chiropractic treatment: Gastritis • Peptic Ulcer • Gastralgia • Hyperchlorhydria • Hypochlorhydria • Hypersecretion • Nervous Dyspepsia.

'Great Muppet Caper' is rags to riches fare

"The Great Muppet Caper." Distributed by Universal Pictures. Directed by Jim Henson. Written by Tom Patchett & Jay Tarses and Jerry Juhl & Jack Rose. Starring The Muppets, Diana Rigg, Charles Grodin. Rated "G."

By STEVE WALZ
Special to Playtime

Rags, that's all they really are, just cloth and fringe with ping-pong ball eyes and an occasional hat or perhaps a yarn mustache.

Kermit and Fozzie Bear rarely wear clothes, although Miss Piggy wouldn't be caught dead without the latest stylish ensemble. They have no life of their own these limp, inanimate objects, but somehow under the collective name of "The Muppets" they have become some of the most lively and dearly loved characters on earth.

Any star worthy of his Actors Equity card wishes his name were as popular and well recognized as a simple green sock named Kermit the Frog.

Of course Kermit is not so simple anymore. From that rough hand puppet moving awkwardly around behind some proscenium which shielded his master's hand, Kermit is now able to ride a bike through a British park with the greatest of ease. In the new Muppet film, entitled "The Great Muppet Caper," Kermit does this and more as he, along with the rest of the Muppet mob, try to find a jewel thief in England.

Miss Piggy not only gets a bike ride, but a chance to outdo everyone else (doesn't she always?) as she does some very fancy motorcycle stunt work. Kermit and Fozzie are reporters who set out after the jewel thief, with the Great Gonzo tagging along as photographer.

Charles Grodin plays the thief with Diana Rigg as Lady Holiday whose jewels are stolen, and there are several cameos by real humans such as Robert Morley and a very funny scene with John Cleese from "Monty Python."

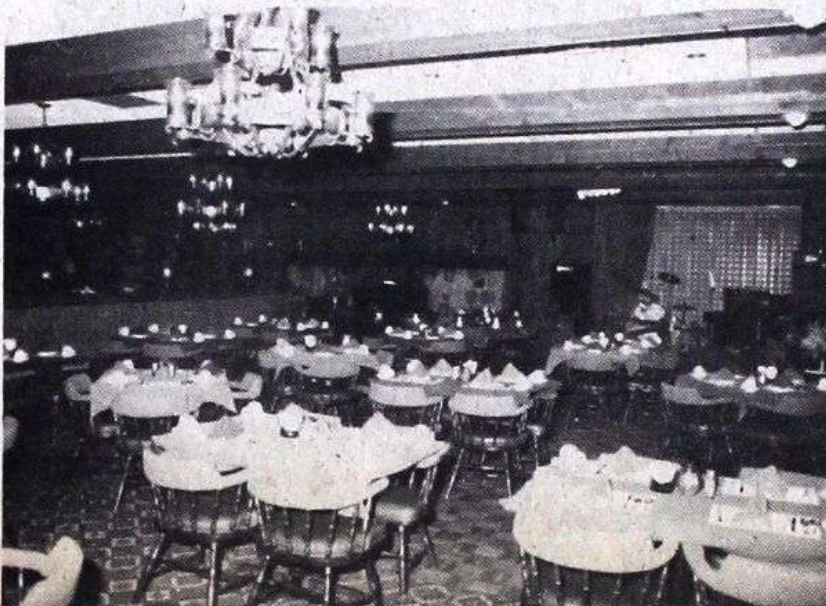

Much like the TV show, this film will appeal to both adults and kiddies, although not always at the same time. There are lines that shoot right over the kiddies' heads, and grown-ups may find some of it slow or foolish.

Spoofs of Esther Williams' movies are big this year; Mel Brooks did his in "History of the World, Part I," and in this film Miss Piggy gets her chance to set swimsuit styles back a hundred years. It's lavish and silly, funny and punny, high comedy and low camp, sometimes celebrational, rarely inspirational—but who can dislike a frog in a tuxedo?

Club atmosphere

Bob's Hideaway is nestled among trees near the intersection of Newburgh and Cherry Hill in Westland (above). The supper club claims the best steaks, seafoods and spirits in the area with live entertainment also featured in the restaurant's spacious dining room (below). A new menu offers a variety of entrees including luncheon and dinner specials.

'S.O.B.' looks at Hollywood

By STEVE WALZ
Special to Playtime

Film producer Blake Edwards has enjoyed a relatively rewarding moviemaking career with huge successes such as "10" and "Pink Panther."

But in 1970, "Darling

Lili," a spy spoof yarn which featured his wife Julie Andrews, was ripped by the critics and sunk at the boxoffice. Blake's rather lukewarm treatment after the "Darling Lili" fiasco made him angry—so angry that he decided to make a movie about the Standard Operational Bull... which pervades the entire industry.

The result is an uproarious and rather daring look at the way Hollywood works. Exaggerated as it might be, it's fairly easy to get gist of Edwards story.

RESTAURANTS

Bob's Hideaway provides alternative

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

The name, Bob's Hideaway, is certainly appropriate.

Nestled among the trees on Newburgh just north of Cherry Hill, this fashionable Westland restaurant remains hidden away from the hustle and bustle of suburban traffic. It provides a welcomed relief to the string of neon lit signs so commonplace today on the fast food strips.

"We're hard to find but well worth it," says owner Bob Cuddeback, who oversees the operation along with wife, Billie. "I believe we have the best supper club in Wayne County."

An opinion, we might add, shared by the new chef at Bob's Hideaway, Juan Calvo. No stranger to some of the state's finest restaurants, Calvo has worked at the London Chop House and the Ponchartrain Wine Cellars among other dining establishments since coming to the United States from Spain.

His specialty?
"Seafood and special sauces," he points out. "We have a new menu that I think people will find very inviting."

Various steak and seafood dishes are featured on the diversified menu but a healthy selection of veal, pork, chicken, lamb and liver offerings provide a choice for everyone's tastes. Specials for lunch ($3.75) and dinner ($5.95) are available. The dinner includes choice of spare ribs, ribeye steak or fish, a cheese and cracker basket, soup, salad, potato or rice pilaf, loaf of hot bread and butter.

Among the other dinner entrees are porterhouse steak ($12.50), prime rib ($10.50), strip steak ($10.50), filet mignon ($11.50), lamb chops ($10.95), spare ribs ($9.95), jumbo shrimp ($9.95), crab legs ($10.50), scallops ($8.95), frog legs ($8.95) and various favorites for $7.45 including broiled scrod, broasted chicken, stuffed flounder, veal cordon bleu, stuffed pork chop and liver and onions.

The menu also features dinner-for-two selections — seafood bouquette ($29.50), chateaubriand ($27.50), and spare ribs bouquette ($16.95).

An extensive wine list and choice of after dinner drinks are provided for that extra touch to a good meal.

"There aren't too many supper clubs around anymore... We're an alternative to the fast food chains."

"There aren't too many supper clubs around anymore," notes Cuddeback, a Wayne resident. "This is a family-run operation where people can get a good meal and enjoy themselves at affordable prices. We're an alternative to fast foods."

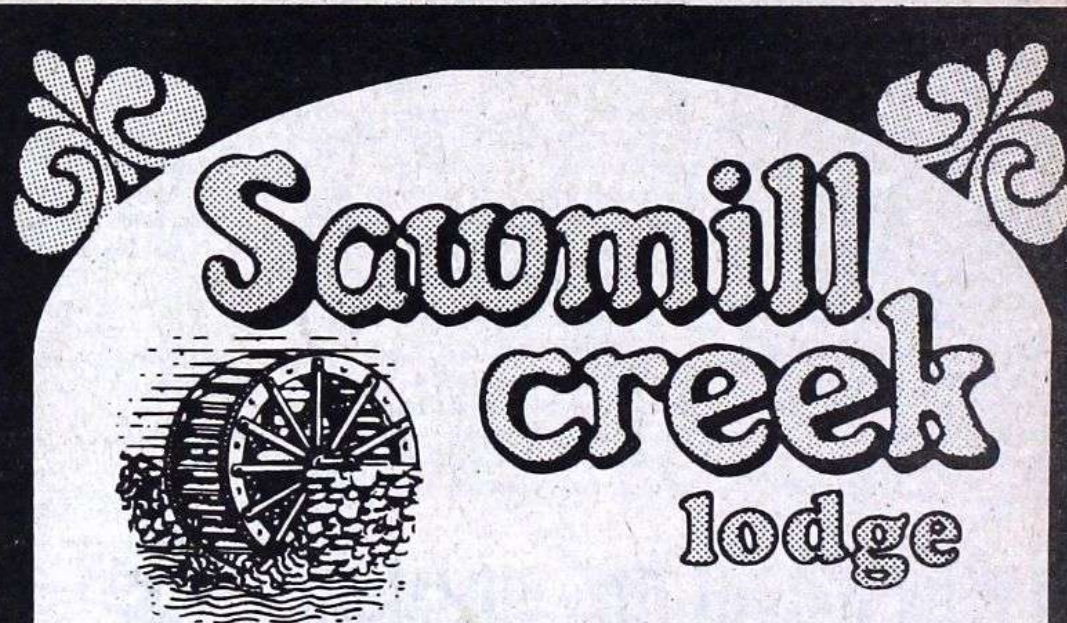

Billie Cuddeback serves as hostess at Bob's Hideaway while sons Jeff and Curt work on a parttime basis.

As for Bob: "I do the dishes," he laughs, taking a break in his restaurant office. "One of us is always here. We operated a truck stop restaurant for nine years in Dearborn before coming here."

The New Minority, a band which has performed in Las Vegas, combines a mix of music and comedy each Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 9 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. On Monday and Wednesday evenings Bob's Hideaway features Psychic Fun, supplied by a variety of fortune tellers, palm readers and persons interested in psychic phenomena.

Bob's Hideaway, located at 211 Newburgh, is open from 11 a.m. to midnight on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Food is served from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. each day.

Major credit cards and reservations are accepted at the 150-seat capacity restaurant.

What's That Sound?

By STEVE O'LEARY

Making music for the fun of it

RAMONES
"Pleasant Dreams"
(Sire)

Often dismissed as nothing more than a three-chord joke, New York's Ramones are actually one of the most innovative rock and roll bands to come out of the lethargic seventies.

Besides being practically the sole perpetrators of the "back to basics" trend, besides being the main influence of the entire "punk" genre, besides starring in the critically acclaimed film "Rock 'n' Roll High School," they've somehow managed not only to survive, but to retain their kid-on-the-street sensibility.

They're still in it for the fun of it, and that's the root of all the best rock and roll.

"We want the airwaves
We want the airwaves, baby
if rock is gonna stay alive"

Those words of wisdom are from the album's opening cut, titled of course, "We Want The Airwaves." And while that may seem quite absurd to those spoon fed on the formula rock radio of the 70's and 80's, those of us who remember the great days of radio when AM stations played gems like "Psychotic Reaction," "Little Bit O' Soul," and "Louie, Louie" can understand the Ramones' concern, because their music is straight out of that mold, one we feared broken long ago.

And while "Pleasant Dreams" isn't the cold slap of the face their debut LP was, nor the unqualified masterpiece "Rock To Russia," it's still one of the better Ramones albums, and that means it's one great rock and roll record. The band's ever-present humor surfaces on ditties like "7-11," where heartthrob Joey sings "She was standing by the Space Invaders/So I said can I see you later." Again they ask "Whatever happened to the radio/And where did all the fun songs go/Summer fun, with the Beach Boys on..."

Then, out of nowhere, this mini-epic BECOMES the 60's, as it becomes a rival for the classic "Last Kiss" in the love/death category: "On-coming car went out of control/It crushed my baby/And it crushed my soul."

On a more upbeat level, "She's A Sensation" meshes an irresistible melody with some mighty meaty chords and would be a shoo-in on Dick Clark's "Rate A Record." The same goes for "Come On Now," which would sure sound great coming out of a cheap car speaker. Other highlights include "Sitting In My Room," "You Sound Like You're Sick," and "The KKK Took My Baby Away," which has gotta be one of the all-time great song titles!

The Ramones make music for the fun of it, and they make it to be fun for us (and they succeed), so isn't it about time they gained mass appeal? Darned right it is, so if you're not yet converted, give 'em a try.

Besides, in these days of Reagan, the so-called "moral majority," and Margaret Thatcher, we all need "Pleasant Dreams," don't you think?

"Oh yeah — well all right
let's rock — Tonight
all night"

RAMONES Johnny Marky Joey Dee Dee

16 new productions featured at Wayne State

The Hilberry, Bonstelle and Studio Theatre seasons at Wayne State University in Detroit will include sixteen productions in 1981-82, including works by Shakespeare, Moliere, Rostand, Dickens, Oscar Wilde, J.M. Synge, Eugene O'Neill, Tennessee Williams and David Mamet.

Also featured will be the world premiere of one of the finalists in the latest David Nederlander playwriting competition—"King, Jr." by Michigan writer Donald Howard.

The Hilberry's new productions, presented in rotating repertory by the theatre's graduate repertory company, with official opening dates, are: "Cyrano de Bergerac," Edmond Rostand's masterpiece of romantic drama—October 14; "The Imaginary Invalid," Moliere's classic comedy about an obsessive hypochondriac—November 18; "Ah, Wilderness!," Eugene O'Neill's only comedy—January 6; Shakespeare's popular political drama, "Julius Caesar"—February 10; Tennessee Williams' N.Y. Drama Critics Circle Award-winning "The Night of the Iguana,"—March 24; and John Millington Synge's comedy masterpiece, "The Playboy of the Western World"—April 21.

The Bonstelle season's six plays and performance dates are: "No Place to Be Somebody" by Charles Gordon, the first Pulitzer Prize-winning play by a black author—October 16-18 and 23-25; dramatization of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," first produced by the Bonstelle in 1979 and brought back by popular demand—December 4-6, 11-13 and 18-20; the Joseph Fields-Jerome Chodorov musical "Wonderful Town," with music by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green (based on the play "My Sister Eileen")—January 29-31 and February 5-7; Oscar Wilde's brilliant and witty comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest"—March 12-14 and 19-21; Shakespeare's first great success in romantic comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream"—April 23-25 and April 30-May 2; and the world premiere of Donald Howard's "King, Jr.," about the life of Martin Luther King, Jr., June 9-12 and 16-19.

Four contemporary plays will be produced as scholarship benefits for the Studio season. They are: Sandy Wilson's Twenties-style musical comedy, "The Boy Friend"—October 22-25 and 29-November 1; David Mamet's comedy satire of the contemporary sexual game, "Sexual Perversity in Chicago"—November 19-22 and 27-29; "The Talking Drums" by Nkenge Mganga Mawusi, a poetic drama with dance and music—January 14-17 and 21-24; and Tennessee Williams' first great success, "The Glass Menagerie"—March 25-28 and April 1-4.

For a brochure with complete information about performance schedules, plays and tickets, write or call the Wayne State University Theatre box office, Detroit 48202, telephone 577-2972.

Pizza Time Theatre audiences are growing

That big rat Chuck E. Cheese and his friends are performing for larger audiences these days at the Chuck E. Cheese's Pizza Time Theatre in Westland.

Recently completed expansion of the facility has added 150 new seats and 30 new games and rides for children. In late August the Beagles, four computer controlled dogs that are synchronized and animated, will perform in the theatre's new cabaret room.

Each Beagle will sing and play an instrument creating the sounds of popular pop songs with live performances every night. The theatre is located at 208 Wayne Road at Cherry Hill.

Fishing Lines

By BOB SAWITSKI

Pay attention to details

How many times have you heard the old adage, "the man who pays attention to details will be the most successful?"

This, invariably, goes for fishing, too. Paying attention to details will result in more fish on your stringer.

Watch such things as your knots that you tie on the terminal end of your tackle. Make sure they're tightly clinched at all times. Also check the final foot or two of the business end of your line and look for frays, especially if you do a lot of fishing in weeds or brush. A good way to do this is to run the line over your lips. You'll locate frays and breaks easily this way.

If the line feels rough, cut off a section and retie your lure. It may sound like a pain, but you'll wish you did it when you hook theunker of a lifetime and your line goes "twang!"

Carry a can or a tube of reel lube and constantly keep an ear peeled for any squeaks and grinds in your reels. If you hear something, a drop or two of oil may save lots of heartaches.

Be alert for changes in fish activity. If you're fishing deep and suddenly notice activity on the surface, change your tactics. If you're trolling in open water and spy some splashing in the lily pads — or vice versa — change lures and go after 'em.

Any fisherman who has been caught on a lake in a sudden thunderstorm knows how important it is to keep a watchful eye on changing weather conditions. If the sky turns dark and threatening, head back to the launch. If lightning begins to flash or a gale starts to howl, don't even attempt to get back to your car. Get to shore as quickly as possible.

It may also be a good idea to take along a transistor radio to get up-to-the-minute weather reports for the area.

Every serious angler knows that the barometer plays an important role in a day's fishing action. A falling barometer means the approach of a cold front or a storm. Fish can sense this change in atmospheric pressure and go on a feeding frenzy of sorts. Fishing is usually good when the barometer is on a downward trend.

When the barometer stabilizes, weather conditions will soon begin to improve, however, depending upon how long it takes for the pressure in the atmosphere to increase.

A rising barometer brings sunny skies, deep light penetration into the water and little fish movement. It normally takes two to three days for fishing to pick up.

Trout fishermen should be alert for insect activity on their favorite stream. As mayflies and caddis begin to emerge from their pupal forms, trout usually begin feeding. Check out the hatch, and then try to match it with artificials.

Other items such as sunglasses, a widebrimmed hat, a rainsuit, and insect repellent don't take up much room in your boat or tacklebox but, under certain conditions, you'll be glad you brought them along.

That reminds me of another old adage — "better safe than sorry."

Film takes cynical approach to Hollywood

ducer, Felix Farmer (Richard Mulligan), has just made the year's biggest bomb in "Night Wind," a mega-budgeted musical starring his gorgeous virginal wife Sally (Julie Andrews). Felix, destroyed by the unusually harsh reviews, sets out to kill himself while his wife tries to resurrect her career via her snotty, high-powered agent, Eva Brown (Shelley Winters). Get it—Eva Braun-Brown.

Felix's entourage, led by Tim Culley (William Holden), the director of "Night Wind," his press agent Ben Coogan (Robert Webber), and the local Doctor Feel Good, Feingarten (Robert Preston), tries to convince the burnt out producer to re-edit the film and save his career.

But Felix is determined to die, until he meets up with a sex-crazed starlet, who gives him the inspiration to remake "Night Wind" into a blockbuster porn epic starring his wife, Sally, in the nude!

"S.O.B." is extremely cynical in its approach and could very easily turn you off. But the performances rendered by the all-star cast should keep you in stitches.

Many critics are obviously upset about this film, but many of them are perturbed because the message of "S.O.B." strikes very close to home. Go and see it just for the pun of it.

Canton Singers conducting auditions

The Canton Singers' Road Show, an 18-member community chorus, is conducting auditions for new members. Membership requires attendance at Thursday night rehearsals, some Monday night workshops and one Friday or Saturday night performance per month.

Harmony experience is necessary for members with dance experience also helpful. A five-member combo also is being formed for backup to the piano accompaniment, consisting of lead, rhythm and bass guitars, drums and electric keyboard.

Audition information can be obtained by contacting the group's business manager, Heather McLean, at 455-2745.

Wiley wins 5-city golf championship

Champ plays 'best game ever'

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer
On Saturday Canton's Matt Wiley played around but on Sunday he "got down to business."

After ballooning to a 76 the first day, the business administration major at Wayne State University fired a blistering 5-under-par 66 to win the 22nd annual 5-city Golf Championship with a 142 total at Fellows Creek Golf Club in Canton. Wiley's "best game ever" included four birdies, one eagle and 13 pars as he overcame a 5-stroke deficit to Wayne's Dan Schewe, to win the 36-hole medalist honors by three strokes.

Schewe slipped to a 74 during Sunday's cool, rainy play to take runnerup with 145. Westland's Murray Brooks, just a shot off the pace with a first round 72, came back with a 78 Sunday to win Westland's Championship flight with 150. Inkster's Jim Jackson was that city's best golfer with 72-79 — 151, while Terry Bielecki led Garden City's contingent with 77-78 — 155.

The 24-year-old Wiley, who wears a perpetual smile, credited a 2-hour putting lesson from his father, Jim, for his sensational comeback to win this year's golf crown. "This is the best round of golf I've ever played," said the jubilant Wiley, who has finished second the past two years. Last year, his 147 tied him with Canton's Al D'Amato, Wayne's Ray Ostyn and Garden City's Roger Sutherland for second place, just one stroke behind 22-year-old Russ Holden of Westland who won the title. "I wasn't here mentally or physically on Saturday," Wiley explained. "I played very bad. I was four over par after the first five holes but fought back to be only one over par after 14 holes." However, the youthful links master, dressed in his ever-present white cloth visor cap, 3-putted number 15 from 20 feet and double-bogeyed 18 to finish with 76. "My dad helped me with a two hour session on the putting green after Saturday's round," young Wiley explained. "He told me to square up my shoulders and it really helped my game Sunday as I had 29 putts."

Actually, all of Wiley's game was on fire as he hit 16 greens in regulation, had seven 1-putt greens and chipped to within one foot of the hole on the pair of greens he did not hit in regulation.

This year's champion birdied holes 5, 6, 12 and 16 and had a beautiful eagle 3 on the 460-yard, par 5 number 13. "I've been after this title for four years and I just wish that Tommy could have played this year." "Tommy" is Tom Piscopink, the dapper golfer from Wayne who won the 5-city Golf Championship in 1977, 1978 and 1979, the last three years he played in it.

Piscopink also won the City Golf Title in 1974 with a 144 and Schewe, this year's runnerup, was second that year with 147.

Schewe's 36-38 — 74 on Sunday contained three birdies — a deuce on number 5 and a pair of threes on holes 10 and 12 — but his final tally was marred by five bogeys.

"I hit the ball better than 74 but I just didn't make the shots when they counted," said the 32-year-old who has taught political science at Franklin Junior High School in Wayne for the past nine years.

Schewe will teach at John Glenn High School in Westland this year and he and his wife, Kathy, have a daughter Beth, two years old. He played on the University of Michigan golf team in 1970-72 and plays out of Radrick Farms Golf Course in Ann Arbor. He was club champion there in 1979, winning both the medal and match play titles.

Wiley and Schewe were easily the class of this year's tourney, finishing far ahead of the pack. Jim Ross of Canton (78-72 — 150) was second in that community and Phil Smith won a sudden death playoff from Paul Deedler to finish third in Canton.

Both Smith and Deedler parred the par 4 10th hole. On the second playoff hole — the 220-yard 11th — Smith's 1-iron left him a 40-foot chip to the front of the green while Deedler's 3-wood drive landed near the fence about 60 yards away. Deedler's chip shot found the green but his long, curling putt missed by inches just before Smith canned his 8-foot par putt for the sudden death victory and a third place trophy.

Murray Brooks, Westland's champion, was just one stroke off the pace after the first day with a par 72 but the wind and rain on Sunday helped his second round to rise to 78 and a 150. Dick Hodges fired 78-75 — 153 for runnerup honors in Westland and Ramzy Taweel (who was Westland First Flight Champ last year with 163) carded a 77-77 — 154 for third place in Westland's Championship Flight Sunday.

Wayne's Championship Flight had an exciting finish. Schewe was easily the class of that field, but 18-year-old Steve Zaidel fired a 73 Sunday to go with Saturday's 78 to give him 151 and the runnerup trophy. Last year, Zaidel tied with Ray Ostyn with 152 but lost a sudden death playoff for Wayne's Championship.

Ostyn, who must like the excitement of sudden death playoffs — was at it again Sunday. The cagey veteran faltered to an 81 Sunday to accompany his first round 73 for a 154 total, good for a 3-way tie for third place in Wayne's Championship Flight and a shot at the final trophy.

Ken McKee (77-77 — 154) and Angelo Garfole (77-77 — 154) had a "battle royal" with Ostyn for Wayne's third spot. They started the sudden death playoff on the 10th hole and Garfole

The new champ

Coming back for a 5-under-par 66 in the finals on Sunday after shooting a first round 76, Canton's Matt Wiley captured the 5-City Golf Championship crown at Fellow's Creek to become the first Canton resident to claim the coveted award. Wiley (at right) is congratulated by and accepts the medalist trophy from Bill Hawley, tournament manager.

drove out-of-bounds to eliminate himself from the chase.

McKee, a former Wayne City Councilman and an avid golfer, matched stroke-for-stroke with Ostyn through holes 11, 12 and 13. However, Ostyn tired of the marathon duel and dropped in a tremendous eagle 3 on the 460-yard, par 5, 13th hole to earn 3rd place honors in Wayne.

Inkster's Champion this year was Jim Jackson, whose 72-79 — 150 was the class of that city's field. Richard Dicesore was in the running the first day with a two over par 74 but his 80 on Sunday gave him 154 for runnerup honors in Inkster.

Third place was taken by young Kevin Ryan, who carded 78-80 — 158. Ryan was the talk of last year's tournament when his two-under-par 70 led the field after the first round.

Garden City's entries were led by the Bielecki brothers — Terry and Brian. Terry was disappointed with his 77-78 — 155 but it was good for first place in Garden City's Championship flight. Richard Hunter (76-80 — 156) was one stroke back for runnerup honors and just two slim swings ahead of Brian Bielecki's 78-80 — 158.

It was a turnaround from last year when Brian Bielecki had 156 for second place in Garden City and Hunter and Terry Bielecki tied for fourth with 160.

Roger Sutherland, last year's Garden City champion and tourney runnerup with 147, has moved to Wisconsin. Henry Lesczynski (did we spell it right this year, Henry?), last year's third place finisher in Garden City with 157, has been working at a golf club out of state and was not able to play this year.

The first three finishers in each flight were awarded trophies and the first five players from each community will represent their area at the Parks and Recreation Department's state golf tournament in September.

"The course was in great condition and we appreciate the cooperation extended by Fellows Creek Golf Club manager Tom Ross and his staff," said Bill Hawley, tournament director. "We want to thank the fine workers from the various Parks and Recreation Departments of the participating communities who recorded the scores so efficiently."

"Everyone cooperated beautifully and it was one of the most successful and satisfying tournaments we've ever had," Hawley said.

If someone has the incorrect trophy, they can call 729-4000 and ask for Tom Mooradian or Jim Bradley and the adjustment will be made.

Do you have the correct golf trophy?

Did you pick up the wrong trophy?

That's the question Bill Hawley, tournament manager for the annual 5-City Championship Golf Tournament, posed today after getting inquiries from trophy recipients.

"It seems that someone or a couple of golfers may have picked up the wrong trophies," Hawley said. "In the confusion of awarding the flight trophies it appears that there were some mix-ups."

Hawley urged golfers who won trophies to check and see if they were handed the correct ones. They can do so by glancing over the tournament result chart—those finishing 1, 2, 3 in any of the flights were presented trophies.

If you happen to have the wrong trophy or did not receive your award, telephone The Associated Newspapers' Sports Department (729-4000) and ask how you can exchange your award for the right one.

"Again, I would like to say that, despite an uncooperative weatherman, this tournament turned out to be an excellent one," Hawley added. "We had more than 100 golfers playing in this thing for the 20th year. Most of the feedback I received was 'that it was great.'"

Wayne's his domain

After leading the first round with a one-under-par 71, Dan Schewe (at left) settled for a 145 2-day total that left the veteran golfer with a second place over-all finish, but the champ of the city of Wayne. The city title also netted Schewe the Lenny Anderson Memorial Travelling Trophy, awarded in the memory of the first police officer killed in the line of duty in Wayne. Schewe accepts the trophy from Lt. William Whitworth, Jr., who also served as co-chairman of the annual City Championship Golf Tournament.

Flight champs earn their 'day in the sun'

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
ANP News Editor

On a day when tough tee and pin placements along with a slight rain had golfers muttering to themselves, four competitors conquered the conditions to capture flight crowns Sunday in the City Championship Golf Tournament at Fellows Creek.

Winners of the first flight titles in their respective communities were: Dick Perman of Westland, who shot 83-77 for a 160; Jim Smith of Canton, 80-79—159; Mike Bailey of Wayne, 87-78—165, and Jim White of Inkster, 84-80—164. Each came on strong during the second day of the weekend tournament while many of their rivals were experiencing difficulties on the overcast afternoon.

"Yes, we moved the tees back for Sunday's round," admitted course manager Tom Ross, "but it was the rain that made things tougher because you don't get as much roll. But we had nothing to do with the rain."

Perman's 77 for the second round enabled him to edge out Ken Hill (82-79—161) in the Westland flight competition. Bob Harden placed third with an 81-84—165.

Perman had a simple explanation for his success on Sunday. "I one putted eight times today," he explained. "I chipped in a 30 footer for par on the fifth hole and then I made a 25 footer on the sixth hole to get things going. Lately I've been playing pretty good."

One of the day's most up-and-down rounds was carded by Harden, who shot an 11-over-par 47 on the front nine before recovering on the back nine with a one-over-par 37.

Why the big difference? "I stayed in bounds on the second nine," laughed Harden. "I took 10 penalty strokes on the first nine holes."

In the Wayne flight, Bailey credited his improved performance off the tee for his come-from-behind victory over runner-up finishers Mike Brown (83-85—168) and Roger Sanford (85-85—170).

"My tee shots were closer," noted Bailey, an eight handicap. "After Saturday's round I went to the driving range and corrected a problem I was having with my grip."

One of the victim's of Bailey's nine-shot improvement on Sunday was Brown, who was surprised to even be in contention following four consecutive double bogeys on opening day.

"The course played longer today but I enjoy it when they move things around," said the 13 handicap, who managed two birdies in each round. "I enjoy this tournament—I've played it for the last 15 years."

The Canton golfers in the first flight were paced by Smith's 159 score, five shots better than Kevin Schaum (81-83—164), with Paul Massimilla taking third (86-86—172).

Smith, a sales representative in Canton, could not thank his putter for the triumph.

"I three putted five greens," lamented Smith, who plays regularly in a golf league with members of the Plymouth-Canton Hockey association. "Putting is my problem, I've tried everything. I would try a pool cue if they'd let me."

"Luckily, I was hitting my wedge pretty good and staying out of trouble. In practice last Thursday the putts were dropping and I shot 74."

First flight action among Inkster golfers proved to be a runaway for White, a diesel operator for the city of Inkster. White took home the trophy by nine shots over Mike Bailey (84-89—173) while John Russell claimed third (87-88—175).

"The 10 to 12 footer was falling for me today," White said. "That's what you need to win. My chipping and putting got me going. The greens were soft today so you could aim directly at the hole."

Bob Weibel fired a 163 to win the second flight for Westland golfers followed by Al Smith (170) and Mack Mayfield (172). In the third flight Joe Kocsis of Westland carded a 180 for top honors to beat Robert Derrick (184). Greg Wagner earned third place by winning a playoff against Rubin Bryant on the third extra hole after each had scored a 190.

Andre Lanthier claimed Wayne's second flight title with a 179 to edge out runner-up Bill Whitworth (184) and Robert Woolley (185).

From rags to riches

What a difference a year (and hard work) makes. The 11-12 year old Broncos of the Wayne-Ford Civic League could hardly win a game last year. However, this season they won their league title with a 9-1 record and swept undefeated through the playoffs to become 1981 champs. Members of the team include Billy Billingsley

Westlander Pelkey shares Flat Rock Speedway lead

An enthusiastic, large crowd saw Joy Fair of Pontiac (Late Models), Chuck Hall of Toledo, Ohio (Figure 8's), and Kevin Pelkey of Westland (Street Stocks) capture their respective Mid-Season Championship Night features at Flat Rock Speedway Saturday evening.

Goods of Taylor.

The veteran Fair led all 50 laps of the Late Model feature, but had to hold off defending track champ Dick Barker of Sterling Heights at the checkered flag. Barker stayed glued to Fair's bumper for most of the race, and then went to the high side with 4 laps to go, but had to settle for second. Ed Hage of Romulus was a very close third, Bob Fox of Royal Oak took fourth, and Lance Olson of Grosse Pointe nipped Harold Davis of Allen Park for the fifth spot at the finish.

Toledoan Chuck Hall also led every lap of the Figure 8 20 lap Mid-Season feature. Hall mastered his way through the intersection each time, just missing cars going through at the same time. Dave Miller of Dearborn Heights, Bob Studd of Dearborn Heights, Jack Dandy of Taylor, and Gary Earley of Rockwood filled out the top five spots. All five were inspected after the race and found to be perfectly legal.

Pelkey received a gift in the 15 lap Street Stock Mid-Season Championship feature. Pelkey was in the third spot going into turn four on the last lap, but John Wyman of Carleton and Dan Leppen of Romulus both spun while in traffic. Wyman had been the leader, with Leppen right behind. The duo both went to the low side and spun, giving Pelkey clear sailing to the stripe. Leroy Farmer of Ypsilanti grabbed second, Walt Bohland of Farmington Hills was third, Rick Budson of Ypsilanti was fourth, and Johnny Hi of Romulus ended up fifth. All the excitement and tight racing continues next Saturday night, August 1 at Flat Rock Speedway. All three divisions, the Late Models, Figure 8's, and Street Stocks, will be ready for action. Time trials begin at 6:30 and racing at 8:00 p.m. The track is located 1 mile south of Flat Rock on Telegraph Road (U.S. 24).

Six teams are within reach of Wayne softball titles

With the end of the softball season in sight, at least six teams are within reach of championships in the Wayne Parks and Recreation leagues.

With both teams playing 16 games, Johnson's Carbonic has a three-game cushion over runner-up, Pittman's Installation, in Class A. Johnson's has won 13 of its 16 games, while Pittman's has a 11-5 won-lost ratio.

In Class B, Four Devil Lounge and Unistruck-Detroit are staging a duel for the top of the standings, but the Four Devils have a two-game edge (12-2). Undefeated Laurain's Softball Club has a commanding 12-0 record and is zeroing in on the Division "C" crown.

Over in Class A, Tastee Freez has everything under control in the women's division as the league-leader has chalked up a 10-2 record. Runner-up, Mr. Steak's, is 7-4. In the "B" race, Tom's Tavern has an untainted 13-0 record and a six-game margin over the second place, Wayne Bank.

In Over 35 men's competition, Eloise Inn remains the team to beat. Eloise sits atop of the league with a 10-2 record and the rest of the field is playing catch-up.

The battle for the Over 25 women's crown is up for grabs as league-leader, Tom's Tavern is having a rough time trying to shake Dr. A.B. Kellert and the Misfits. Tom's has a slim one-game (7-1) lead over the doctor's club (6-2) which is tied for second with the misfits.

Johnson's exploded for eight runs in the second inning and went on to crush Perkins Engines 15-1 for their 13th win of the campaign. Winning pitcher Dennis Cowell lost his shutout when Perkins scored in their seventh.

Bob Myers collected four hits off of losing pitcher Craig Noble who was tagged for 21 safeties including a pair of singles and a double by Mark Lipinski and a triple and single by Larry Holt who knocked in four runs.

Pittman's rallied for three runs in the bottom of the fifth and added three more in the sixth to edge Star Optical, 9-5, in one of the better games played last week. Winning hurler Rich Pittman gave up an over-the-fence homer to Jim Hubbs who accounted for three RBI's. Hubbs also singled.

Bob Morin laced three hits and drove in two runs, while Greg Mason tripled and singled. Mark Barrone belted a double and a couple of singles off of loser Vic Mumiack.

Pittman's also turned back Star Optical 14-3 as Robert Linton led an 18-hit assault and Mason latched on to three hits, including a roundtripper. Mason also contributed five RBI's.

Upset-minded J & D Auto made league-leading Tastee Freez work overtime before it succumbed 3-2 in 13 innings last week. The winners scored in the bottom of the 13 to break a 2-all deadlock.

Tastee Freez grabbed a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the second, but J & D tallied once in the third and picked up the tying run in the fourth. That's how it stood for the next nine innings.

Renee Burnie, who gave up 12 hits including two each to Lou Hoefft and Kate Martel, was the winning pitcher while Pat Bledsoe and Ann Knight divided up pitching chores for the losers. Wendy Reynolds, Kim Schwartz and Brenda Radley accounted for seven of Tastee Freez' 14 hits. Radley drilled a double, a pair of singles and also knocked in two runs.

Tastee Freez also narrowly escaped an upset as Mr. Steak battled to the wire with the league-leader. Tastee scored what proved to be the winning runs in the bottom of the sixth, coming up with two decisive tallies.

Burnie again carded the victory as she served up eight hits, two each to Lisa Rumple and Beth Johnson.

Loser Suzanne Riggs was tagged for a triple and single by Beth Tracey, while Wendy Reynolds and Kim Schwartz split four singles between them.

Mr. Steak bounced back and trashed Greg's Emergency 13-3 as Riggs scattered six hits, two of those going to Patty Reigard who singled, doubled and knocked in a run.

The winners, who collected 16 hits off of Kim Storance, received two hits each from Ann Ceade, Tonya Rumple, Suzanne Riggs, Beth Johnson, and Lisa Rumple.

In the only other Class A game, J & D was awarded a 10-0 victory when Greg's failed to field the necessary players.

Tom Tavern stretched its winning streak to 13 as it buried Teal Electric 12-7 behind Lynn Divitte's four-hitter. Donna Goodrich paced the leader's hitting attack as she drilled a homer, two doubles and chased in three runs. Team-mate Gerry Stans had a single and double and two RBI's.

Wayne Bank cashed in Cathy Poluch's four-hitter and some timely hitting by Pam Blivens and Gail St. Andrew for its fifth victory of the campaign at the expense of Lucille's, 4-1.

Blivens stroked three singles and St. Andrew turned in with a pair of hits, including an RBI single for the winners who collected nine hits off of loser Wilda Berg.

Free tours are showcase for Michigan products

(Editor's note: This is the 11th in a series of 16 weekly features on state tourism that the Automobile Club of Michigan is offering to Michigan newspapers. The features also are designed to promote fuel conservation through close-to-home travel.)

The diversity of Michigan's economy is reflected in its products which range from cereal to red flannel long johns, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Travelers can learn more about Michigan products and view the efficiency of technology by taking free industrial tours offered by companies throughout the state.

Some Michigan-made products are consumed by babies and breakfast eaters across the nation. Each day, thousands of jars of baby food are produced at the Gerber Company in Fremont while millions of cereal flakes fill conveyor belts at Kellogg's Battle Creek plant.

Wheat is ground into flour, then becomes an ingredient in the Jiffy-brand cake and muffin mixes produced by Chelsea Milling Co.

Hundreds of bottles or cans whiz along production lines each minute at Stroh's Brewery in Detroit and at Squirtpak, Inc. in Holland. Visitors to the beer and soft drink bottling plants and the five wineries in Paw Paw can cool off with free samples of the products.

Potato chips, a snack often paired with pop or beer, also are made in Michigan. Producers include the Made Right Potato Chip plant in Bay City.

Mackinac Island shops make tons of fudge throughout the summer. Part of the fun is to watch the sweet being concocted on marble tables before buying the melt-in-your-mouth candy.

The nation is both fed and clothed by Michigan companies. "Hush Puppies" shoes are made by Wolverine World Wide Company in Rockford. When winter winds blow, many bodies bundle up in the flannel "granny gowns," old-fashioned shirts and drop-seat long johns made in Cedar Springs at the Red Flannel Factory.

Michigan's lumber industry made Kalamazoo known for papermaking and Grand Rapids a world leader among furniture manufacturers.

In Kalamazoo, travelers can see the process that transforms wood into paper at the James River Corp.

Government regulations prohibit tours of furniture factories in Grand Rapids, but the public can view the finished products at the Baker Furniture Museum, the Grand Rapids Public Museum and at showrooms of the city's fine furniture manufacturers.

Other Michigan factories offer first-hand looks at automotive, electronic and nuclear technology at work.

Though tours of auto assembly lines are suspended in summer during the model changeover, several plants which make parts keep their doors open to the public. They include the A.C. Spark Plug Division of General Motors Corp. in Flint.

Clocks, computers, televisions, stereos and other electronic items are made in St. Joseph by the Heath Company, a subsidiary of Zenith Radio Corp.

Several Michigan companies are supplementing the state's energy supplies by producing electricity with nuclear energy. Among them is the Donald C. Cook Nuclear Plant in Bridgman.

Travelers planning to take the free tours offered by these organizations should call ahead for summer tours. Reservations may be required for groups and a few plants prohibit children for safety reasons.

Local students awarded EMU scholarships

The Eastern Michigan University Women's Commission has awarded 12 scholarships, including two to local students, that total approximately $6,000 for the 1981-82 academic year.

The scholarships are awarded to students who are pursuing degrees in non-traditional areas or who have had interruptions in their education of five years or more.

Local recipients are Jewel Elkins of 45122 Paris who has been awarded a Naomi Chivers Scholarship. The $522 award is to be used for tuition and fees for the 1981-82 school year. Ms. Elkins is a full-time undergraduate student working toward a bachelor's degree in nursing.

Goldie McClure of 45106 Paris Drive has also been awarded a $522 Naomi Chivers Scholarship.

Sandra Valdlamudi of 1141 Rambling will use her scholarship fund to help finish her work for a master's in computer-based information systems.

In the meantime, a Belleville resident, Kim Grantham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Grantham of 1061 Studebaker, has been accepted for the fall semester at Siena Heights College in Adrian.

Kim graduated from Belleville High School in 1981 and plans to major in science.

Siena Heights is an independent, four-year, fully accredited, co-educational liberal arts institution offering associate, bachelor, and master degrees in 34 programs of study.

The college's 1,800 students come from 30 states and 26 foreign countries. Siena was founded by the Adrian Dominican Congregation in 1919 and its first institution of higher education.

HAPPENED?
There you were at graduation. Confi-dent about your future. Ready to con-quer the world. But then you went to work. Just temporarily, of course. You bought a car and some clothes. And you found yourself working in an area you never really wanted at all. And every-where you look, personnel departments want only people with experience. But wait! Before you waste time work-ing at something you don't like, find out how the Air Force can change your life. Let us find out where your strengths lie. Together we'll decide on a skill you like and the Air Force needs. Then you'll go on to technical school or on-the-job training... learning a skill that will help you compete in a fast moving world. You'll get the experience you need and the advantages of the Air Force great way of life. But what about those financial commitments? You'll start earning good Air Force pay right away, with opportunity for advancement and regular pay raises. So stop asking "What happened?" MAKE your future happen in the Air Force. For your country. For yourself. Your local recruiter has details. Get in touch!

Have you read any good Classified lately?

ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS
729-3300

WHERE DO YOU GO FROM HERE?

You've taken stock of all the items your family no longer uses... you've gathered them together... now where do you go? To your telephone! That's right... just give us a call and we will help you word and place a classified ad which offers all these items for sale. It's the easy, low-cost way to get in touch with other families who can use the very items you no longer need... and it brings cash to you! Doesn't that sound like a good move?
